50 Attend Hearing

Midland Bridge Need Cited; Starting Date's Indefinite

The proposed Midland - Shippingsport Bridge, estimated to cost $4½ million, was brought a step closer Tuesday when the Pennsylvania Highway Department held a public hearing at Shippingsport to determine its economic effect.

About 50 attended, including area residents, Beaver County and borough officials and members of the United Steelworkers Union and South Beaver County Civic Association and representatives of firms affected.

The hour-long hearing was conducted by James B. F. Rinehart, assistant attorney general for Pennsylvania. George Margetto, plans engineer of the Highway Department's Pittsburgh district office, spoke briefly and answered questions. Frank Taylor, rights-of-way engineer of the district, was also present.

MOST OF the testimony pointed out the economic need of the bridge to open up the South Side area of the county for industry. The need for a shorter route for trucks to and from plants, and for workers to their jobs on the Midland side and to the Pittsburgh area was pointed out. Asked how long it would be before the bridge is built, once tentative plans are approved, Atty. Rinehart said construction has been ordered by the Legislative act but it will depend upon available money and completion of detailed plans.

According to speculation, construction might start in about a year from the time of the hearing.

MARGETTO spoke on the location, traffic study, purpose and economic effects. It would be of two lanes and of the steel cantilever type with ramps to clear two railroads.

It will be located in Shippingsport near the intersection of Route 168 and the present road to the Shippingsport Ferry, overpass the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad, the Ohio River and the Pennsylvania Railroad and intersect with Route 68, a half mile east of Midland in Industry Borough.

On the Midland side, there will be an interchange with two 12-foot lanes east, about 900 feet long, and two 12-foot lanes west, about 1,400 feet long, for traffic entering or leaving.

Through traffic west would continue into Midland but eastbound from Midland would bear right, going under the bridge.

WHERE THE bridge ends on the Shippingsport side, a 2,100-foot road will run through the pumping station facilities to Route 168. The project will be 1½ miles long.

Tentative site plans, viewed by those attending, were dated Sept. 8, 1960, and revised Oct. 25, by Michael Baker Jr., Inc., Rochester engineers.

Margetto said that Midland district traffic now is 1,100 to 1,700 vehicles per day and will increase to 4,000 by 1976.

It would eliminate the need of long traffic routes to connect with the Pittsburgh area.

He pointed out the long route of either crossing bridges at Rochester and Monaca or at East Liverpool to get to the Midland

Portuguese Naval Points Are Alerted

Ship Reported 550 Miles To East Of Windward Islands

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—U.S. Navy planes closed in today on the reported position of a mystery ship in tropical Atlantic waters and Portuguese authorities said the captive liner Santa Maria has been located.

American confirmation of this was lacking, with Navy men say-

4 Former Ohioans Aboard Hijacked Ship

NEW YORK (AP) — Four former Ohioans and possibly others still living in the state are among the 600 passengers on the hijacked Portuguese cruise ship Santa Maria sought by the United States and British navies.

By radio from the Caribbean, the one-time Ohioans were identified as Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Greiner and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Churchill, both couples now retired and living elsewhere. The Greiners resided in Springfield and the Churchills in Lima.

ing they will not consider the Santa Maria located until it has been sighted and identified.

But the Portuguese seemed convinced that the vessel trailed by monitoring of its radio is the Santa Maria. Rear Adm. Sarmiento Rodrigues declared in Lisbon the liner "will be sighted within a few hours."

The Portuguese frigate Pedro Escobar put to sea and a standby order went out to all Portuguese naval commands in the West African colony of Angola, the Azores, the Cape Verde Islands and Mozambique—all areas controlled from Lisbon.

The 20,906-ton liner was seized Sunday by enemies of the Salazar regime in Portugal. At the time the vessel was between Venezuela and Florida, on a course to set some of its 600 passengers ashore at Port Everglades, Fla., Tuesday.

Four twin-engine Neptunes of the U.S. Navy circled over a 100-mile radius centered 400 miles due east of Guadeloupe, a French possession in the Leeward Islands. They were following a radio fix, a method by which monitoring stations compare notes to determine the location of a transmitter through triangulation.

Portugal's navy gave approximately the same position. They said the Santa Maria was located

T. F. Grafton Out For Mayor

Wellsville Man To Make Republican Bid

Thomas F. (Tom) Grafton, 1720 Buckeye Ave., owner of Grafton Motor Sales, announced today he will be a candidate for nomination as mayor on the Republican ticket at the May primary in Wellsville. Grafton said he plans to file his petition Thursday. This will be his first try in politics.

He is a member and a trustee of the Riverside United Presbyterian Church, a member and past president of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club, past president of the Chamber of Commerce, chairman of the Wellsville Salvation Army Board and a member of the southern Ruritan Club.

He has been a new car dealer in Wellsville since 1950. He is married and has a daughter, Susan Carol, a freshman in Wellsville High School.

AS FIRE HIT MIDLAND. Midland and Midland Heights volunteer firemen fought this $12,000 blaze early today in zero weather at 107 Midland Ave. The only casualty was Fireman Andy Sopko, who received frostbitten fingers. Mill traffic at 6 a. m. was lined up due to decreased speed to cross a water hose. The bottom floor was unoccupied and the Willie Holton family, which resided upstairs, got out safely.

$12,000 Loss Set To Upper Stories Of 3-Story Building

Some 25 Midland volunteer firemen fought a $12,000 blaze early today which gutted the upper stories of a three-story building at 107 Midland Ave.

The only casualty was Andy Sopko, a fireman, who suffered frostbite of his fingers and was taken to Crucible Emergency Hospital for treatment. Firemen fought the flames as the mercury fell to 2 below zero. The bottom story was unoccupied and the Willie Holton family resided up stairs. They got out safely and

Higgins Quits Officer's Job

Submits Resignation To Follow Vacation

Patrolman Richard E. Higgins, a member of the police force more than 3 years, submitted his resignation Tuesday afternoon to Safety - Service Director Lee Copenhaver to become effective at midnight Feb. 7 at the end of a two-week vacation period.

The officer gave no reason for the resignation in a brief letter to the director and Copenhaver said he and Higgins did not discuss the patrolman's future plans.

Higgins originally had timed his resignation to take effect immediately, which would have meant he would not have collected his vacation pay for the current year. He also sent copies of the resignation to Mayor Bert H. Goodballet, Chief A. J. Radecki and the Civil Service Commission. Copenhaver handed Higgins a written acceptance of his resignation.

Higgins resides at 1978 Lisbon St. He was appointed to the force Dec. 27, 1957, by the late Mayor Arnold W. Devon.

The director is the appointing authority for police department vacancies under state law. His next move will be to request the Civil Service Commission to certify the names of three men on its eligibility list from which he can make an appointment.

Industrial Gas Curtailed

Sub-Zero Wave Deepens Tonight

Sub-zero readings were "a dime a dozen" this morning as the Tri-State District shivered in the coldest weather in two years, and tonight may be colder!

Official overnight lows ranged from 18 below zero to 7 below.

There were unofficial marks of 27, 22, 16, 15, 10 and 9—all below. Natural gas supplies were cut for a number of West Virginia industries, and some curtailed operations despite standby oil equipment; about 50 Chester area homes were without power in an interruption believed caused by the cold, and a rural school was closed for lack of heat. The North Side fire station was closed. Rural school bus runs were delayed.

The bitter cold began moving into the East Liverpool area Tuesday afternoon and the thermometer fell steadily through the night-hitting the "way-below" zero mark after dawn.

Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, recorded the district's official low mark of 18 below — the coldest since December of 1958.

Dam 7 at Midland recorded 7 below after the mercury dropped to the zero mark at 2 a. m. The Potters Bank & Trust Co.'s temperature sign showed 4 below at 8 as the official low for the downtown. Dam 8 at Newell had 9 below.

West Point registered 22 below, the Salem sewage disposal plant had a minus 27; 10 below was recorded in Glenmoor and Fredericktown—usually the district ice-box—had a "mild" 15 below.

The State Highway Department garage at Leetonia chalked up a minus 16.

A low of zero to 10 below had been forecast last night and the Ohio weatherman predicted a still colder 6 to 12 below tonight.

East Palestine reported a minus 22 Peace Valley near New Waterford had 28 below.

The Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. imposed a curtailment on gas supplies to West Virginia industrial users to save fuel for household use.

$100,000 Study Contract Let

U.S. Makes Opening Move For Space Filling Station

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States takes its first tentative step today toward creation of cosmic filling stations for space ships.

In time, a series of these space platforms could become manned refueling points and wayside inns for astronauts bound on trips of exploration around the solar system—and possibly beyond.

Initially the problem is to find out whether such filling stations can be put together and how. There is no thought of putting men on them for some time.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced today that a $100,000 contract to study the problems involved had been let by the George C. Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala., to the Lockheed Aircraft Corp., Sunnyvale, Calif.

Under the contract, Lockheed is to study the feasibility of sending two satellites into orbit and then hooking them together while they are whirling through space at 18,000 miles an hour.

If the Lockheed study indicates that the experiment is technically possible, then NASA will give it a try, using the Thor-Agena B and the Atlas-Agena-B missile and satellite combinations.

NASA said there was no timetable for such an experiment. It will depend on the Lockheed study and the availability of funds. If the experiment is successful, a NASA spokesman said, huge space ships also could be boosted into orbit in sections and then assembled for use in deep space probes.

If everything works out as NASA hopes, a series of inns for space explorers, or tourists, ultimately could be assembled in an ever-expanding series of concentric orbits around the earth.

$400 In Goods Taken From Lumber Firm

Burglars At Calcutta Concern Unable To Smash Safe Open

Thieves forced open a heavy wooden door at the Potters Lumber Co. building on Route 170 near Calcutta early today, taking some $400 in merchandise after unsuccessfully attempting to smash open a safe.

The sheriff's department night patrol spotted the damaged safe in a check of the building about 4:15 and investigated but the intruders apparently had fled from the rear of the sprawling building which houses the lumber firm, hardware store, Potters Construction Co. and the Midway Oil Co. office.

The safe in the oil firm office was damaged badly in the attempt to open it, and will have to be replaced David (Pete) Beatty of the firm said.

Company officials were tabulating losses late this morning, and had found missing such items as power tools, electric clocks, wrist watches and wrenches.

Deputy Cy Wellman drove by early today and the lights of the cruiser showed the safe out of place. He halted and went to the office window, and saw the damage. The deputy then notified Richard Beatty of the firm, and they investigated.

Entry was apparently made through a rear door held by a lock and three throw bolts. The locks and bolts were damaged, but the heavy door will not have to be replaced.

County Legislators Ask Tariff Protection

A request for the Ohio Legislature to formally ask Congress for enactment of a federal law imposing tariff regulations on the import of clay products has been filed by Columbiana County representatives in the Ohio House.

Rep. J. Warren Bettis of Sallineville and Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon have joined with Rep. Robert Longworth of Carroll County in asking for the move.

They represent the so-called "clay counties" of Eastern Ohio, which produce pottery, sewer pipe, tile and other ceramic products.

Attention! Chester Masons will meet at Masonic Temple, 1st Ave., Chester, W. Va., 7:30 p.m., to pay respects to our deceased brother, Donald Bates. By Worshipful Master.—AD.

City CD Group Airs Projects

The program committee led a discussion of future projects when the Women's Civil Defense Council met Monday night in the Council Chamber at City Hall.

The committee is comprised of Mrs. Doris Freeman, Mrs. Vera Brereton and Mrs. Jeannette Carpenter. A report was given on the council's activities in the last month — furnishing literature to the city Welcome Wagon; furnishing movies shown to the Westgate School science class and a talk on Civil Defense which Mrs. Edna Sweeney, secretary, gave to the Hancock Rhododendron Club.

Miss Jane McGruder, information specialist of the Ohio Valley Gas Co., presented a program entitled, "The Mad Hatter," dealing with products of the gas industry. All the clothes she wore were made from chemicals from natural gas. Miss McGruder was introduced by Miss Betty Newton, home service advisor of the gas company.

Mrs. Evelyn Balser, president, conducted business. Mrs. Ethel Evans, secretary, read the minutes and Mrs. Harriett Smith, treasurer, gave a report.

Refreshments were served by Miss Mary Burkhardt and Mrs. Carpenter. Guests were Mrs. Winifred Clark, Mrs. Mabel Vaness and Miss Catherine Toft. Names were drawn for secret pals.

The next meeting is Feb. 15 at 7:30 p. m. in the Council Caucus room.

Only One Door Not Opened

It is tempting to believe the Kennedy administration might find a way to seek agreement with the Communist bloc that never has been tried before.

That has been the wishful thought behind summit conferences — that a top-level meeting might reveal some area of agreement never discovered by diplomatic underlings.

But there is only one door never opened by the negotiations that have died a-borning since Communist expansion after World War II revealed that cold war would follow the hot war.

Before the door could be opened, there would need to be a revolution in thinking about peace, not only in the United States but in every nation depressed by the terrible prospect of atomic warfare.

UP TO NOW, peace has been a never-never-land bliss to be enjoyed if men and governments would quit plotting violence. It has been like a dream of what a wonderful friend the grizzly bear could be if it would behave like a giant panda, instead.

It has been an alternative to the thoughts and attitudes of war — an international euphoria in which everybody loved everybody else and the exceptional belligerents had nothing to look forward to but discipline if they stepped out of line. That was the intended structure of the United Nations — a brotherhood of peace-loving nations ranked against occasional hot-heads who might run amuck.

Unfortunately, the brotherhood of peace-loving nations never materialized.

The United Nations has done better than anyone could have expected it to do under the handicap of internal friction, but it has not secured peace.

This is why there must be a revolution in thought if the United States opens the hitherto unopened door that might reveal a new approach to international agreement.

INSTEAD OF thinking about a state of bliss in which the United States might save billions by disarmament agreements, men will have to think about a state in which the United States will spend billions to make war impossible. It is already committed to that policy. That is the significance of its enormous military budget.

It is spending its money for weapons that will not be used if the policy succeeds. It is depending on massive armament to avert attack by the only other nation with enough armament to carry out an attack.

Similar amounts of money spent on ways to relieve suspicion of attack might stabilize the armament race. These would be ways to provide certain knowledge of unusual military preparations, if they were made, and certain knowledge that they were not being made if all parties to armament control were being faithful.

They would be ways like the open-skies proposal once made by Dwight Eisenhower. They would be ways mutually satisfactory to all potential military powers to relieve themselves of the dread of destruction.

THIS WOULD NOT mean that all armament would be scrapped. It would mean that all armament would be brought under such precise control that fear of attack after a secret military buildup could be eliminated from the cause of international tension.

If there is going to be a break-through — a new door opened — this will be it. The armament race will be put under tight control, not to save money, not to pursue the will-o-the-wisp of unattainable peace, but to give the human race security from its 20th century nightmares of fusion and fission.

-But Never Enough To Eat

Persistent reports of food shortages in mainland China are being interpreted as evidence that the Communist regime is in trouble. The same kind of reports from the Soviet Union are interpreted the same way.

The interpretations are justified. Any regime that cannot feed the people who live under it, whether the regime is Communist, czarist, or something else, is in trouble. A food supply is the primary responsibility of all governments.

Hunger in Communist countries in this century is in contrast with their industrialization. It is as though their governments had put the industrial cart before the agricultural horse and loaded the cart with industry's burden while starving the horse.

In every instance, the cause of Communist hunger is the same. Producers of food are not given the incentive that producers of manufactured goods have been given. Governments blame the weather, or they blame the peasants, or they blame the officials who were supposed to provide enough food. But they never blame themselves.

They never concede that something is wrong with a system that fails to provide food. They point with pride, instead, to production of machines.

In the United States, government is blamed for failure to eliminate food surpluses. The Soviet Union's officials come here to study this incongruous failure, hoping to find secrets of success they can take home with them.

But they never take home the real secret, which is the incentive system in U.S. agriculture — the system that makes it profitable for a farmer to do what needs to be done. If this sometimes includes subsidies to make farming as profitable as industrialism, it's still a system that works without equal.

Only in the United States are there chronic agricultural surpluses, the most spectacular triumph of the American system of free enterprise.

Appeal To Council

City Council will meet Friday night to act on Mayor Bert H. Goodballe's veto of the city income tax ordinance which the legislators passed earlier under emergency legislation.

In the best interest of the over-all municipal welfare, it is hoped that the Councilmen maintain the courage of their convictions and override the veto.

There undoubtedly has been pressure — and will be more from now until Friday's meeting — for some of the legislators to change their thinking and kill the ordinance. It will be to their credit, however, if they stand firm against such pressure and maintain the unanimous front which marked original approval of the tax.

The city's financial needs make it imperative that action be taken now to provide additional money. The tax still seems the logical answer. Barring an unprecedented court action, it would be collected at least until next November if the mayor's veto is overridden.

This not only would solve the fund problem for some nine months, but would afford East Liverpool residents a definite picture of some of the benefits that can be derived from the levy.

A lovely scene, a song, a dance
Was once sufficient to entrance;
A kettle and a fire hot
Sufficed them in a trouble-spot;
Oh, happiness was theirs to spare
Until they heard of things elsewhere:
Now to world headaches they declare

The American people don't even know the Spanish - American War ever happened. We have to explain to visitors what this ship did, says a naval officer in charge of Cruiser Olympia, Admiral Dewey's flagship at the Battle of Manila Bay, now moored to a Philadelphia pier, manned by a few old sailors and pretty well ignored. Maybe so, but this ship glows in this writer's earliest boyhood memories. For one thing pictures of the Olympia came with cigarettes, and kids collected them through their fathers or big brothers. The pictures included other ships in the Great White Fleet and of Dewey, Bob Evans and Admiral Sampson and Schley, the last two famed for wiping out the Spanish fleet at Santiago Bay. They kindled patriotism among the small fry.

English police report a man leaving an empty quart of whiskey in same phone booth every night for a year and suspect he was a tired businessman who, between the office and home, needed fortification. Possibly he was a confirmed lone drinker, 'enjoying a drink only in deep privacy and a fellow who liked to hear bells ringing before he put in any call. We can fancy him ultimately telling central, "This phone booth occupant is out of order. I keep dialing this bottle but don't get anybody."

Dummy Union Curbed In New York

By Victor Riesel

Eloquence has not entirely vanished from this beat of mine. I keep thinking of the fellow who set, himself up in the union business as one might roll out a string of push carts with many cheap wares. When a New York state official questioned him recently, this mercantile of unions retorted:

"You're a punk, a jerk, a perjurer and a liar."

Then the union's "general manager," Benjamin Ross, operator of some 10 "dummy" unions, also heightened the cultural content of a hearing before the New York State Labor Relations Board, by inviting opposing counsel to "come outside and I'll knock your brains out."

At one point in the hearings on Ross' privately run unions the board chairman, Jay Kramer called in the police to keep Ross' muscle under control.

Mr. Kramer, who pushes back quite strenuously when pushed around, refused to permit one of Ross' personal unions, Amalgamated Union Local 5, to control the employees of a small Manhattan restaurant.

THERE WERE many things about Ross which the labor board believes malodorous. There is, for example, Ross' police record — convictions from 1933 for stealing, second degree robbery, illegal possession of drugs, and assault.

What concerned Mr. Kramer was Ross' plans to use his Manhattan muscle for expansion of his labor enterprises across the country. He has plans, Ross has. He has turned his self-chartered unaffiliated Amalgamated Local Five into a "District Five" organization. The man would go West. He would charter 10 new locals under "District Five."

"It is plain that Ross covers a wide range of industries, in a virtually unlimited geographical area," Kramer reported, "and that he is currently stepping up his organizational efforts."

THIS NEW TYPE of labor business should fascinate every community across the land wherever there are small shops and stores. Here is Ross' technique, so all shall know: First he set up a dummy outfit known as Amalgamated Union Local 5. There were no locals one to four or six. Just "Five." Then he pushed around small shop owners. The National Labor Relation Board moved in. He went on to others.

He worked through a series of "affiliated locals," which Ross himself set up and then affiliated with himself. All had names similar to large national unions. He diversified indeed.

After turning Amalgamated Union Local 5 into District 5, he issued charters for the allied crafts rolled in a six-week home hygiene course that opened in the Junior Women's Red Cross clubrooms at Chester.

TEN YEARS AGO — Snowfalls drained East Liverpool's ash supply, so the street department had to haul an extra quantity from the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

Idle workers in the East Liverpool district received $5,563 in unemployment compensation during December.

Mrs. William Smith was named president of the Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Fire of undetermined origin caused damage estimated at $5,000 in a two-story seven-room home on Pennsylvania Ave., East End.

Ralph Miller was installed as president of the Meta Magi organization.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Seven graduates of City Hospital Nurses Training School passed their state examinations and received the title of "registered nurse."

J. T. Croxall was re-elected chairman of the East Liverpool Board of Health.

Twenty-two high school girls en-union, the Bakery and Confectionery Workers Local 124 (no relation to the older union once in the AFL), a new Amalgamated Union Local 5, and the Amalgamated Union Local 5, Food, Packers and Service Employees.

EACH OF THESE "unions" can turn out other unions. The Amalgamated Union Local 5, for example, has a handy inventory of its own.

Among its subsidiaries are the "Novelty Workers; the Iron and Miscellaneous Workers, Security Employees; Automotive Service Employees; Rental Service Employees and Plastic Workers."

All this was exposed when Ross was summoned before the labor board after he tried to move in on a little eatery called Aly's Hat Box. Crusading board chairman Kramer took a stand which should be known across the land wherever men with muscle push others around.

"We do this," said Kramer, "because we believe that democracy deserves, indeed demands, no less of this agency."

The board decided that dummy union "muscle and vituperation and reprehensible misconduct" have no place among free workers. And that merely slapping a "union" label on muscle doesn't make it legal.

Borrowing Trouble

By Truman Twill

The inauguration is safely over. John F. Kennedy did not change his mind at the last minute and back away from the privilege of holding a bear by the tail.

He did not take a cue from Dwight D. Eisenhower, who was so glad to be off the hook he has grown a doublechin just thinking about it.

He did not deign to notice that Richard M. Nixon, the fellow he beat out for the White House, has lost no sleep and grayed no hair over the prospect of going to California, instead of standing where X marks the spot for the next four years.

Mr. Kennedy didn't choke up and bolt for the exit when the Secret Service men moved in with revolvers at the ready to shoot down any crank, maniac, assassin or hoodlum making the mistake of a close-range attack.

His composure was unruffled by the knowledge that from now on he is a target for every eagle eye with a telescopic sight who might take it into his head to go president-hunting during the never-closed season on that category of big game.

Even the singular lack of enthusiasm for living in the most famous American mausoleum that has been noticeable on the part of his young wife did not cool off Mr. Kennedy's ardor for being chief executive. For reasons that remain obscure to most of his countrymen, he wants to be their president. He sought the job.

Now that the inauguration is over — and before there has been time to stir up the bees — Americans should think about a strange thing that has happened to the presidency of their country.

They pity the person who gets the job. Even while they're abusing him for his sins of omission and commission, most of them imaginary, by the way, they are feeling sorry for him.

They would not like to give up their privacy, the way he and his family must give up their privacy. They would not like to live in the glare of the spotlight. They would not want to be on guard every instant of their existence.

It would drive them batty to put up with the characters a president has to be nice to. Every time a malicious rumor-twister or Nosy Ned tried to put them in a hole with a loaded question, they would count to a thousand and still feel like punching the creep in the kisser.

Photographers always climbing around them like apes in a forest would give them the willies. The thought of having their pictures taken while they were playing games, walking with their wives, playing with their kids, or doting off after a bad night would make their heads ache.

Then there would be the insoluble problems they are supposed to solve. And the statements they are expected to make every whistlitch. And the marching up and down when dignitaries come to town. Always remembering to say the right thing and shake the right hand and move this way and that way and not stand between the prize bull and the cameras and never let fly with an unguarded remark or an honest cuss word.

And always to act as if they felt great, just great, never better, lest the stock market sag. And to be everlastingly dignified and poised and cool and calm and collected, to keep the political bloodhounds from picking up the scent and chasing them down the road to ruin in full cry.

No thanks. Not this lifetime. For all but a half dozen men in a generation it's borrowing trouble to think about it, because it couldn't happen to them anyway. But the wallop is that everybody who used to think being president of the United States would be the top of every thing now thinks it would be the bottom of nothing.

The job shouldn't happen to a dog, the way it has been rigged, and if it weren't for an occasional hero willing to live a dog's life it would go begging, like the kingship of Britain once went begging when Edward VIII told his countrymen what they could do with it.

Inspiring Inaugurals

By David Lawrence

Past Inauguration Ceremonies Recalled

All inaugural ceremonies are inspiring, and the addresses usually produce a thrill and widespread approbation. But memories are short. How many people can recall what happened even as recently as the first Eisenhower inauguration? Here is a dispatch by this writer just eight years ago.

An unforgettable inaugural... The transfer of authority... Solemnly and yet with a spontaneous cheer... Echoes of a triumphant election conducted by the people freely... Few places on earth where such freedom prevails.

The outgoing President participating and showing loyalty to free institutions... The new President taking the oath... To preserve, protect, and defend the Constitution... A kiss first for the first lady and then a prayer of dedication.

Now the inaugural address... The people packed in the streets before him... The sun casting its warm glow... The words coming clear over the great esplanade on the East Front of the Capitol... Heard also around the world through radio... The ceremony itself seen by millions through television... In the presence of the Senate, the House, the Supreme Court, the diplomatic corps.

A message of hope, of high purpose and of resolution. One excerpt tells it all — the way to inevitable peace:

"To produce this unity, to meet the challenge of our time, destiny has laid upon our country the responsibility of the free world's leadership. So it is proper that we assure our friends once again that, in the discharge of this responsibility, we Americans know and observe the difference between world leadership and imperialism; between firmness and truculence; between a thoughtfully calculated goal and spasmodic reaction to the stimulus of emergencies.

"We wish our friends the world over to know this above all: We face the threat — not with dread and confusion — but with confidence and conviction."

THE APPLAUSE rings out... for those few words proclaim the new policy — "a thoughtfully calculated goal" and not the opportunism of "spasmodic reaction" to recurrent crises reminding us of our lack of firmness to meet the first crisis.

"Never," he adds, "must we be proven guilty of the one capital offense against freedom, a lack of staunch faith."

The phrases are pregnant with meaning... Implicit rather than explicit, but penetrating thoughts just the same... Especially significant sentences: "We must be ready to dare all for our country... We must be willing, individually and as a nation, to accept whatever sacrifices are required of us... We must acquire proficiency in defense and display stamina of purpose."

Firmness, strength, steadfastness, courage, bravery... A readiness to face the bluff of the Russian tyrant with the moral force of our united peoples... The goal is clearly pointed out — the winning of the peace.

MEMORIES of other inaugurations... Jan. 20, 1949, when Harry Truman stood there humbly and without rancor... Jan. 20, 1945, when Franklin Roosevelt wasn't able to go to the Capitol but stood on the White House balcony... His face haggard and pale... His cheeks sunken as his son James lifted him to the pedestal to speak the inaugural message... Less than 90 days later the President was dead.

Back to March 4, 1933, when the same man in vibrant phrases, with strength of voice and body, said, "The only thing we have to fear is fear itself."

Back to March 4, 1913, when Woodrow Wilson, with the finest phrases of them all — not a word written for him — spoke his message of inspiration as the Democrats took over for the first time since 1897... A span of 16 years.

Then, on March 4, 1921, when a Republican took over again... Woodrow Wilson, victorious leader in World War I but now enfeebled... unable to walk to the front of the Capitol... Bidding his successor, Warren Harding, good luck in the vice president's room where the outgoing President had come to sign last-minute bills... Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, the elder — archfoe of the League of Nations and of Wilson — standing near by... the cold look that Wilson gave him... the polite, deferential Harding helping the broken Wilson to his feet... Harding taking the oath a few minutes later alone on the East Front, happy, hopeful, solemn.

MEMORIES, too, of William Howard Taft as he said farewell at Union Station on March 4, 1913... A reporter asking him what he would miss most... "Ah," he said, "the power, the power of the presidency."

Thoughts of Truman... The power he had... The power we bestow on all our presidents... They little realize sometimes that it is temporary and transient... The true power is with the people, to repudiate them or enshrine them... Wondering if we will be patient, unpartisan, tolerant till we see... Maybe we can be.

Newsman Face Big Job

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON Those plumbers of history, newsmen with an ear for leaks, have their work cut out for them in the Kennedy administration.

President Kennedy, starting his first full week in the White House, seems to have laid down a policy of hush-mouth.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was noted for not talking much when he worked in the State Department some years ago.

Rusk came away from the White House Monday, after talking with Kennedy, with the news the Kennedy administration wants quiet diplomacy.

Then there were the Democratic congressional leaders who perhaps for the first time had practically nothing to say.

When they came away from talking with Kennedy Tuesday, they may have been mumbling to themselves but they weren't even doing that to reporters.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson confided to reporters a piece of information which didn't send them racing for the telephones. He said the talk with Kennedy involved problems facing the nation.

It seemed only yesterday that President Eisenhower's congressional leaders could hardly wait to leave him before making statements.

This didn't mean they revealed much, but compared with the Democrats Tuesday, they looked like a bunch of chatterboxes.

If this clam-up is going to be Kennedy policy, it means reporters will have to work harder finding people who will leak news to them without being quoted.

Since Kennedy plans on having regular news conferences, perhaps he has decided that, if his administration does any talking, he'll do it.

This may explain the unlightening explanation by Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, when asked how come the quietude.

"We are not tightening information," Salinger said, "we're trying to coordinate it."

There was a particular reason for hoping Rusk would open up. Over the weekend Soviet Premier Khrushchev had called in the American ambassador in Moscow, Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr., and talked with him for hours.

But Rusk brushed aside would-be questioners with a statement: "The value of the diplomatic channel depends on its privacy." He wouldn't say what Khrushchev had talked about.

'Misery Hill'

Mount Washington in winter more than lives up to its nickname, "Misery Hill."

The combination of wind and cold on the New Hampshire peak creates some of the world's worst weather. Furious storms are spawned by a clash between bitter Arctic air and warmer, moisture currents from the temperate zone.

Hundred-mile-an-hour winds often are accompanied by temperatures dropping to 20 below zero. Tiny ice pellets whizz through the air with the force of birdshot and snow piles up into 30-foot drifts in ravines.

"Winter" on the 6,288-foot-high mountain begins in September and extends through June. During this period, winds of hurricane force regularly rake the summit two out of every three days.

The strongest gust of wind ever measured on the earth's surface blasted Mount Washington at 231 miles an hour on April 12, 1934. The coldest temperature ever recorded there was 46.5 degrees below zero. The mercury never has climbed above 45 degrees in the winter or 71 in the summer.

The average American soldier during the Revolutionary War stood only five feet four inches tall. According to a recent study, the average G.I. of today stands five feet eight and one-half inches tall.

Legislature

sponsor the unbalanced budget or offer one of their own.

The Democrats have indicated Minority Leader James A. Lentz, D-Fairfield, will introduce the governor's bill Thursday if the GOP leadership fails to act.

There was one Republican sponsor to a bill introduced in the House which would abandon the use of sales tax stamps, a proposal DiSalle tried to push through a Democratic-dominated legislature two years ago and failed. The Republican sponsor is Rep. Fred Cassel of Carey.

Religious and charitable groups strongly opposed abandonment of the stamp-receipt plan two years ago largely because it automatically would end Ohio's unique stamp redemption system, a plan adopted more than 20 years ago to help enforcement of the tax by encouraging buyers to demand their stamps when making a purchase.

DiSalle won a partial victory in 1959 when he succeeded in getting the redemption rate cut from 3 per cent of the face value of the stamps to 2 per cent. He also succeeded in eliminating the issuance of stamps in connection with the sale of automobiles. Those moves now are being challenged in the courts.

The governor contends the stamp system is unnecessary and costly. He estimates its abandonment would save $11 million a year.

There were two other proposals Tuesday to eliminate the use of stamps or meter impressions in connection with the collection of state excise taxes.

One, sponsored by Rep. A. G. Lancione, D-Belmont, would discontinue the familiar meter impressions on cigarette packages indicating the Ohio tax of five cents a pack has been paid.

The other, by Rep. Theodore R. Boring, D-Vinton, proposes to discontinue state tax stamps on bottled beer, wine and mixed beverages.

Another legislative perennial made its appearance Tuesday—a proposal to require semiannual inspection of motor vehicles at a top $1.50 fee. Inspection stations would be licensed by the state and motorists would be required to remedy defects within 20 days. The proposal by Rep. Thomas J. Barrett, D-Mahoning, also would require inspections of all vehicles involved in accidents. If adopted, the law would be effective in July 1962.

Another proposed safety measure would give township trustees authority to regulate the speed of vehicles in areas outside municipalities where they now control parking.

Four Democrats came up with another congressional redistricting bill, one of a series to redistrict the state's population into 24 districts instead of 23 because Ohio became entitled to an additional congressional seat as a result of the 1960 census. The latest bill would:

Place Montgomery County alone in the 3rd District; split off Butler and put it in the 4th; shift Allen County to the 5th; place Logan, Union, Ottawa, Sandusky and Seneca counties in the 8th; shift Licking and Perry to the 10th; split Medina from the 14th and place it in the 13th, leaving Summit alone in the 14th; shift Coshocton, Tuscarawas and Holmes to the 15th, Crawford and Morrow to the 17th, split Franklin County into two districts, the 11th and the 12th. The present 11th in the extreme corner of northeastern Ohio would become the 24th District.

Others among the 34 measures introduced Tuesday would:

Authorize distribution of $80,000 a year from the Ohio Fairs Fund for thoroughbred racing purses.

Permit Ohio to join with other states and Canadian provinces in a Great Lakes basin compact for development, use and conservation of water resources.

Refund to rural mail carriers the tax on gasoline they use in delivering the mail.

Increase the membership of the State Teachers Retirement Board from five to seven members by adding two more teacher members.

Grant additional funds to a school district which has an unexpected increase in attendance which requires at least two additional teachers.

Permit Sunday hunting on state-controlled property.

Set a $5 fine for posting bills on utility poles.

Establish 50 per cent of the true value as the basis for all intangible personal property tax.

Appropriate $10,000 to improve, as an historical site, the Old Indian Mill in Wyandot County.

And, apparently, an old political hatchet is buried.

Robert Taft Jr., son of the late "Mr. Republican," is one of four co-sponsors of a House-adopted joint resolution in honor of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower as president, soldier and world statesman. It was "Mr. Republican" who was defeated by Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination in 1952 — and political bitterness lingered for years.

Other sponsors are House Speaker Roger Cloud, Minority Leader James A. Lantz and Rep. Joseph Lady, R-Hardin. The resolution awaits almost sure adoption by the Senate before a copy is forwarded to the former two-term president at Gettysburg, Pa.

Autoist Fined $25

Two motorists, including an East Liverpool area man, were fined a total of $35 and costs Tuesday by County Judge James L. MacDonald at Lisbon and another forfeited an appearance bond.

Artie Neiderhiser, 35, of Box 65, East Liverpool, was fined $25 and costs, for driving without a valid license.

Donald E. Coleman, 20, of 310 N. Market St., Lisbon, was assessed $10 and costs for driving without a muffler.

Thomas D. Peters, 35, of Campbell forfeited $15 bond for speeding. All were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Noted Toymaker Dies

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Alfred Carlton Gilbert, 76, noted toy manufacturer who invented the Erector set, died Tuesday of a heart ailment. He was founder and chairman of the board of A. C. Gilbert Co., and had served as president until 1954. He was born in Salem, Ore.

Pupils Entertain At Highlandtown

The fifth and sixth grades under the direction of Kenneth Knowles presented the program at the monthly meeting of the Highlandtown Parent-Teacher Association Friday night.

Becky McPherson played a piano solo, Karen Williams and Louise Merrill sang a duet, Theresa Eastham and Joyce McIntosh played a trumpet duet and pupils of the two grades sang two songs.

The meeting opened with the singing of "America" and James Kessel led prayer. Martin Adams and Robert Skinner, members of the Southern Local Board of Education, spoke on the new school. A question-and-answer period followed. The fifth and sixth grades won the attendance banner and Robert Carter, principal, expressed thanks for the recreation equipment purchased by the PTA.

OH, MY ACHING BACK

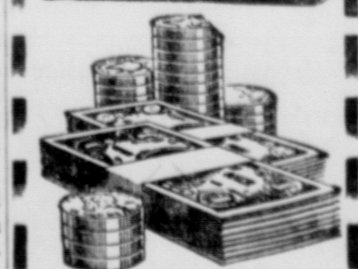

Now! You can get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that often cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain — you want relief — want it fast! Another disturbance may be mild bladder irritation following wrong food and drink — often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling. Doan's Pills work fast in 3 separate ways: 1. by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headache, muscular aches and pains; 2. by soothing effect on bladder irritation; 3. by mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Enjoy a good night's sleep and the same happy relief millions have for over 60 years. New, large size saves money. Get Doan's Pills today!

tion equipment purchased by the PTA.

Lunch was served by the first, second, seventh and eighth grade homeroom mothers. The next meeting is Feb. 17.

Weirton Mayor, Police Confer On Teen-agers

WEIRTON — Mayor David Frew met with Sgt. Julius Trombetti of the Carnegie Barracks of Pennsylvania State Police Monday night to discuss reports that Pennsylvania teen-agers have been drinking in Weirton area taverns.

Charges have been made that Weirton area taverns, and others in Hancock County, have been serving intoxicants to Pennsylvania teen-agers without checking for proof of their ages.

The mayor and the police officer pledged co-operation in investigating the reports. "In the future, if there are any proven violations, you can rest assured that the guilty people will be prosecuted," the mayor said.

Beaver PTA To Buy Device

The purchase of a $300 classroom projection device was authorized by the Beaver Local Public School Parent-Teacher Association Monday night.

The tachistoscope permits teachers to project problems against a wall for classroom study. It was obtained from the Keystone Equipment Co. of Meadville, Pa.

The PTA also approved a new $100 scholarship for a qualified Beaver Local senior interested in going to college to study teaching.

Selections were played by instrumental ensembles from the beginners band, junior high school band and senior band, under the direction of J. Warren Campbell. Lunch was served by the fifth grade mothers. Howard Bomberger, president, was in charge. About 75 attended. The next meeting is Feb. 27.

Free Fishing Over 65 Sought Again By Blake

By Review Correspondent
COLUMBUS — State Sen. Arthur Blake (D-Martins Ferry) again has asked the Ohio General Assembly to permit all Ohioans over 65 to fish without licenses.

The proposal is a favorite one of the senator from the 20-22nd District, who introduced it several times previously. The present law exempts recipients of aid for the aged, while Blake's bill would expand the exemption to include all persons over 65.

The two longest sleeps mentioned in popular literature are those of Rip Van Winkle and the Sleeping Beauty.

Other new officers are Dorothy Rayle, vice president; Tommy Weills, secretary; and Suzie Cunningham, treasurer. Officers assumed duties after election and will serve for 161.

Debra Weills, devotional chairman, read Ps. 23 and led group singing of several hymns. The Lord's Prayer in unison closed the devotion period.

Games were played with Linda Cunningham as chairman. Prizes were awarded Miss Weills, Miss Cunningham and Miss Rayle.

Refreshments were served eight by May and Weills. An arrangement of lilies and roses decorated the table.

Date of next month's meeting will be announced. Hostesses will be Miss Weills and Donald Sans. Miss Cunningham will lead devotions and Miss Rayle will be recreation leader. Miss Phyllis Stoneburner is teacher.

School Guidance Discussed For Group At Newell

The school guidance program in Hancock County was discussed by W. S. Deel, guidance director, at the meeting of the Newell Women's Club Monday night at the American Legion home. Twenty-eight attended.

Deel was introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. Jacob Turner. Mrs. Deel was a guest.

A committee was named to work with the Legion auxiliary in planning the crippled children's fund drive in Newell. It includes Mrs. George Cawthon, Mrs. Harry Springer and Mrs. Carl Durham.

Mrs. Cawthon and Mrs. Springer, along with Mrs. Cora Wurzel and Mrs. Louise Staley of the Legion auxiliary, attended a recent meeting on the fund drive.

Mrs. Cawthon, president, conducted business and several membership applications were received. She also led the flag pledge and club creed. Mrs. Helen Doane was in charge of the devotions.

Lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Virgil Grimm, Mrs. Benny Martin and Mrs. Thomas Rector.

Grand Opening Marked By Local Pharmacy

Pat's Northside Pharmacy, formerly the Irwin Drug Co., will mark its grand opening Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The new owner is Pat D'Pasquale, formerly of Amsterdam, Ohio.

The store is located on St. Clair Ave.

Burns Claim Widow

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Lillian Arnold, a 78-year-old widow, died Tuesday of burns suffered at her home. Coroner William J. Pittenger said Mrs. Arnold's clothing caught fire from a coal stove she used to heat her four-room home.

Clarkson

Mrs. Duane Martin entertained 10 youngsters Saturday in a party marking the seventh birthday anniversary of her daughter, Cheryl.

Games and contests were featured, and refreshments were served by the hostess.

FANCY. This lady's headache band is more fancily decorated than most. There's a cat with diamond eyes and baguette whiskers, an angel fish of jade and diamonds, and a gold whale with ruby eye and diamond fins and spout.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Continued cold with temperatures averaging 10-15 degrees below normal. Some moderation Saturday and Sunday. Normal high 35 north to 40 south, normal low 20-25. Occasional snow flurries or light snow near Lake Erie throughout the period, light snow south and central on Thursday and again during the weekend.

Irondale Club Will Aid Band

IRONDALE — The Band Boosters of Stanton Local High School will sponsor a public round and square dance Saturday night from 9 to 12 in the high school gymnasium.

Plans for the fund-raising project were completed at a meeting Monday night in the school.

The Chetock Brothers will furnish music. Proceeds will be used to help purchase instruments for the band and to help pay for new drums.

The Boosters also will sponsor a Tag Day in Steubenville March 4. The group authorized payment of $45 for the balance of the cost of a "Dyna-Level" instrument which measures sounds. The school will bear the remaining cost.

Plans were discussed for a concert of the senior band but no date was set. Eleven members and Don Paul, director, attended.

Mrs. Clyde Russell Jr., president, presided. The next meeting is Feb. 27, according to Mrs. Aldo Pilutti, secretary.

Business Head Dies

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Carl H. Weiland, 75, president of the Weiland Packing Co., died Monday after a long illness. Weiland and his late father, Charles, established the firm, which operates throughout the Northwest and Middle West, in 1911.

Rail Figure Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Herbert Field McLaury, 70, veteran railroad advertising man, died Tuesday after a long illness. He was advertising manager of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad from 1925 until 1936, when he took a similar post with the Association of American Railroads. McLaury, who retired in 1958, was born in Burlington, Iowa.

Fire Razes Home

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—Fire in bitter cold that hampered firefighters Tuesday gutted the home of Cecil Cooper, his wife and their 10 children in nearby Amelia. Fire Chief Cliff Evanshine said the blaze apparently started in a defective flue.

Color Slides Of Dairy Plant Shown For Rotary Members

Golden Star Dairy Co.'s milk processing program and views of the gleaming interior of the East Liverpool dairy plant were illustrated in a series of color slides screened at the Rotary Club's meeting Tuesday afternoon in the Travelers Hotel.

John W. Eiferd Jr., vice president of Golden Star — the only dairy in Columbiana County — narrated the program with use of a tape recording describing the process used in treating milk and producing dairy products.

Golden Star was founded in 1921 by John W. Eiferd, president, who began business with one cow and a one-horse cart to deliver milk door-to-door to his customers.

The founder selected the firm's name from the polished, brass stars on the bridle of the harness of the delivery horse.

The horse has since been replaced by a fleet of modern delivery trucks, the dairy plant on Webber Way now employs 70, and the company treats and bottles both pasteurized and homogenized milk and manufactures various dairy products, including buttermilk, ice cream and cottage cheese.

The company also operates a restaurant-dairy store, "Dairyland." The vice president pointed out during the slide program that Golden Star receives only raw milk from farmers who are members of the Dairywomen's Co - operative Sales Association.

The milk is kept under refrigeration from the time it leaves area farms in tank trucks until it is treated, bottled and delivered, Eiferd said.

Slides of the plant's interior included a view of an "aero-Vac" machine which removes unwanted odors from the milk, insuring flavor.

Other slides showed equipment used in bottling, pasteurizing and homogenizing milk, along with machines for separating cream, producing buttermilk and making ice cream.

Eiferd also screened slides of the Meadowlark farm near Highlandtown, and its milkhouse, termed typical of area farms from where Golden Star is supplied with milk.

Quenton Henderson, sales manager, was projectionist.

George Hargraves, president, reminded members that the club will again sponsor a trip to a World Affairs Institute in Cincinnati March 17-18 for 4 students from East Liverpool, Chester, Newell and Beaver Local. George VanHorne is chairman of the project.

Deaths and Funerals

Illness Claims City Resident

Miss May B. Pauley, 1868 Lisbon St., died Tuesday at 9:30 p.m. at City Hospital after a long illness.

She was born in East Liverpool, a daughter of the late Daniel J. and Sarah Fowler Pauley. She was a member of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

Miss Pauley leaves a sister, Mrs. Vera Farrell of East Liverpool, and a brother, Ralph H. Pauley of Beaver.

Services will be conducted Friday at 2 p.m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. M. Rudolph Miller. Burial will be in Riverview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday.

Chester Kiwanis To Conduct Drive For Polio Funds

A house - to - house canvass of Chester in the annual March of Dimes drive will be held Tuesday night, it was announced at a meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night.

Alvin Fineman is chairman for the drive, sponsored annually by the club. Club members and Key Club members will start the solicitation about 7:15, following the regular dinner meeting.

A tape recording of a talk by the late Donald Johnson, first president of the national Kiwanis Club, was played at the meeting Tuesday night at the City Hall.

R. M. McFarland spoke on the history of the service club, which is marking its 46th anniversary. The organization, founded at Detroit in 1915, now has 7,565 clubs and 4,260,000 members, he said.

About 25 attended the meeting at which Russ Davis, president, was in charge. Guests included George Davidson of the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., and Carl Hardin and William Conkle, West Virginia University extension aides. Conkle formerly resided in Chester.

Ed Jordan, president of the Key Club, spoke on club activities. William Harper Jr. of the Key Club was also a guest.

Sub-Zero Cold Curtails Gas

The Ohio Valley Gas Co., serving East Liverpool and vicinity, said Ohio-side industries were notified yesterday of a possible curtailment today, but it had not come at mid-morning.

The sub-zero weather today forced a 60 per cent cut in natural gas supplies to large industrial Robin—So What? Where's the Polar Bear?

Homer Cronin, assistant fire chief, reported sighting a forlorn robin on a fence post in front of his home in LaCroft this morning.

But no one reported seeing any polar bears — although the mercury was at 9 below at the time in LaCroft. Many robins remain up north throughout the winter.

plants from Chester south to New Martinsville.

A reading of 20 degrees below zero was noted at 6:30 and 7:30 this morning at Tomlinson Run State Park in Pughton, according to N. T. Holbrook, park supervisor. Holbrook said the thermometer still showed a -18 at 10 a.m.

This was the coldest weather since the winter of 1953 when a 23 degrees was recorded at the Hancock County park, Holbrook said.

A 7-below was registered at the Wellsville fire station. It was 17 below at 7:30 a.m. at the Wellsville water filtration plant off the old Salineville Rd. and by 8 it had dropped to 19 below. At Hammondsville, a minus 12 was registered at 8:30 a.m.

Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. announced that the reduced supplies to industrial plants will remain in effect until the temperatures moderate.

The 60 per cent curtailment of natural gas supplies went into effect at 8 a.m. today at all large industrial plants in Hancock County and others south to New Martinsville.

The firm said that most industrial plants have standby sources of fuel.

However, the natural gas curtailment necessitated a cutback of operations in several Newell-Chester area potteries which are equipped with gas-fired kilns.

Manufacturers said this is the third time since 1951 that it had to cut supplies to industry.

Officials of area potteries, hoping for warmer weather soon, indicated a prolonged curtailment of their gas supply would seriously affect plant production.

The Homer Laughlin China Co. in Newell switched to standby oil facilities this morning. The plant has been equipped with emergency oil facilities for nearly 40 years.

Taylor, Smith & Taylor China Co. also made the transition to oil for heating and other purposes this morning. The plant also began curtailing operations, decreasing the number of kilns normally fired by gas.

Harker Pottery Co. in Chester cut one gas-fired kiln from operation and will save its supply of oil for emergency use, if necessary. The plant's clay shop was closed today on a regular schedule, thus bettering the situation somewhat.

The Edwin M. Knowles China Co. in Newell reported the situation as "very minor."

In announcing the cutback, Manufacturers said: "This winter's severe weather and the sustained cold weather of the past three days has forced heavy withdrawals from the company's stock of underground storage gas."

The company stores gas underground during warm weather, tapping the supply during winter months when the demand reaches a peak.

Gas is sold to industrial customers on an "interrupted basis," a Manufacturers spokesman said.

The largest user of natural gas in Hancock County is the Weirton Steel Co.

A spokesman said the gas curtailment will not affect production. The entire 54-inch Strip Steel Mill was switched to standby oil this morning.

About 175 Highlandtown School pupils received a vacation today when an automatic oil furnace failed to operate early this morning.

The furnace was found off when the custodian arrived, and would not return to operation, so classes for the grade school pupils were suspended for the day while repairs are being made. The furnace went off about 5 a.m., but no cold damage was reported to the school.

Elsewhere in Southern Local District, schools were operating on a normal level. However, one bus could not be started for the high school run because of the cold, and another had to double run, authorities said.

Two Beaver Local buses did not operate, and several were late in getting started, but all runs were completed. All schools were operating, but absenteeism was somewhat higher than normal.

Some 50 - homes in the Fairview Rd. area south of Chester were without electric power this morning after a bank of step-down transformers in that area burned out about 4:30.

Power was restored at some homes about 11:20 a.m.

A local Monongehela Power Co. crew was called out to the site, followed by Weirton crews to bring up replacement transformers for the bank which reduces the 7,200-volt primary line to 2,300 volts.

The severe cold weather may have caused the breakdown, according to a spokesman, who said the actual cause has not yet been determined.

The cold, combined with the illness of two men, forced closing of No. 3 fire station.

The furnace failed to heat the building sufficiently when the temperature was above zero so when it got still colder, the station was ordered closed.

Two men are off ill from Central Station and one of the stations would have been closed anyhow to provide a proper force at the downtown station.

When the weather was 20 degrees, firemen said the furnace wouldn't heat the one room of the Northside Station above 64. They also were utilizing an oven in a kitchen stove at the time.

When the temperature started dropping, it became too cold for the men to remain, firemen said.

A thin sheet of ice covered the Ohio River today from shore-to-shore in the pool formed by Dam 7 of Midland. Harry Springer, assistant lockmaster, estimated the thickness of a quarter of an inch. It was the first such ice this winter.

Reports of stalled cars and frozen water lines were numerous throughout the area.

Chester authorities received several reports of frozen service lines yesterday and today, including a broken water meter which had frozen and burst.

There will be slight relief Thursday — "not quite so cold," but the first moderation is not expected until Saturday or Sunday. The extended forecast for Ohio indicates temperatures 10 to 15 degrees below normal with occasional snow flurries through the entire period.

The flurries that fell last night added little to the accumulation of snow and the highway department garage had only four cinder trucks out last night — two on slippery hills and the regular pair of patrol trucks which started about 11 p.m. in the East Liverpool and Leetonia areas.

Highways were reported slippery in spots, mainly because of the ice.

Wellsville Firm's New Sign Hits 'O'

The new automatic clock which also registers the temperature at Central Federal Savings & Loan Association at Wellsville hit the "O" mark at 3:59 a.m. today.

The device was fixed so that the clock "froze" when it hit zero and it kept registering 3:59 and 0 until it was released this morning.

Central Federal has been running a contest since the clock was installed for the person coming closest to guessing the time it would hit the zero mark.

Fred Huston said the winner was Don R. Montgomery of Chester Ave., Wellsville, who picked 4:21 a.m. today.

Huston said the clock has now been set to register all temperatures without shutting off. He said it was registering 4 below at 9:30 a.m.

Fire

went to a neighbor's house. Fire Chief Vincent D'Itri said.

Cause of the fire at 4:18 a.m. was believed due to an overheated coal stove on the second floor. D'Itri said a further investigation will be made.

The building still was smoldering at 8:30 a.m. and, another relief crew of firemen was sent to the scene.

Damage on the main floor was confined to the collapse of the ceiling. A building next door caught was scorched but firemen were able to save it.

Tom Ross of Aliquippa is the owner and it is insured for $4,500. It was considered a total loss and the walls will have to be torn down, the fire chief said.

Midland firemen used their aerial truck, pumper and emergency vehicle. Midland Heights volunteer firemen, headed by Al Monac, assistant chief, used their pumper in the rear of the building.

U. S. corporations, during the coming year, will spend about $5 billion on research and development, inasmuch as nearly 75 per cent of the U. S. growth in sales volume during the next three years will be in new products.

side of the river. The Shippingport Ferry operates only during the day.

He said the sparsely settled area needs the bridge to spur economic growth and is required in the highway network. He said the land in the area is good for industrial and home sites.

THE ONLY opposition to the proposed bridge was voiced by Jack L. Morrow of the Shippingport Ferry Co. and his counsel, Atty. Walter Uring, of Beaver. Morrow said the bridge would be disastrous to the ferry, which carries in excess of 300 cars a day and its service could be expanded.

Morrow said the bridge would cause unemployment for four employees and the vicinity would lose the money they spend. He said the borough would lose on taxes from land taken for the bridge. He asked if the department had considered construction of a through highway without the bridge as has been done over other major waterways where ferries were used.

Atty. Rinehart pointed out the highway department was ordered by the State Legislature to build the bridge. He said objections should have been made when the matter was before the Assembly.

MOST OF those who spoke said the bridge is a "must." James Ross, spokesman for Beaver County commissioners, said he agreed with J. Stanley Miller, president of the SBCCA that the bridge is essential for the development of the area and the county.

He said there is choice land which needs opened up. Commissioner Sam McCune was also present.

Paul Doughty, Hopewell Township Board of Supervisors chairman and chief clerk in the commissioners' office, filed a letter in favor of the bridge. He said it would create growth and employment and benefit some 54,000 people in the Hopewell, Aliquippa and South Side area, along with the proposed bridge at Vanport, a part of the Erie-Pittsburgh-West Virginia Freeway.

JOSEPH D'ALELIO, Midland Borough Councilman and president of Local 1212, United Steelworkers Union at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., cited the need of the bridge for a shorter route to Pittsburgh and for workers to their jobs and truck transportation. He said lack of a bridge has placed a hardship on workers. The union's legislative committee has pressed for the bridge, he said.

Calvin Dunlap, Industry Borough Council president, asked if his borough would have to assume any financial obligations. Atty. Rinehart said that could not be brought up now, until the project has been approved and condemnations started. Rinehart assured him that the highway department would be willing to help solve any traffic problems in the borough due to increased traffic.

WILLIAM BURRIS, Shippingport Borough Council president, said the borough has lost taxes through public utilities and small boroughs in the area need the taxes that new industry would give when the bridge opens up the area.

A representative of the Buckeye Pipe Line Co. said he wanted it on record that his company lines are involved and his company would want detailed plans to clear construction. Rinehart said the company would be contacted.

A representative of the National Transit Co. of Oil City, which has pumping facilities at Shippingport, said the bridge project would cut up the company site.

Also commenting on the need for the bridge were William R. Moore, executive director of the Beaver County Planning and Zoning Commission, and William Green, Shippingport Council secretary, who said he has been looking for it since he was "knee high to a grasshopper."

PLANS FOR the bridge had been dormant since the State Legislature in 1953 authorized construction of a toll bridge at Shippingport. Once the construction cost is paid off, the bridge would be free.

In October, 1956, Joseph J. Lawler, then secretary of the highway department, announced that Michael Baker Jr. Inc., in accordance with Act 628, had been asked to make initial engineering studies.

Fearing the Vanport Bridge might be given priority over one at Shippingport, residents of the area, boroughs and township, the United Steelworkers Union and the SBCCA sent petitions and resolutions in 1959 to state and county officials asking priority for the Shippingport span.

The highway department left the decision up to the county commissioners, who favored the Shippingport bridge.

No property has been taken yet. Atty. Rinehart spoke on the procedure for obtaining the bridge. He said when federal aid is requested by Park H. Martin, secretary of the highway department, an application is made and tentative plans are forwarded. Testimony from a public hearing and plans are sent to the Bureau of Public Roads which then acts.

HE TOLD THE group that prop-

INTERESTED SPECTATORS. Above are some of the 50 residents, Beaver County and borough officials who attended the Pennsylvania Highway Department's public hearing Tuesday at the Shippingport Community Building to determine the economic effect of the proposed $4½ million Midland-Shippingport Bridge. George Margetto, plans engineer for the department, shown at the end of the table, answered questions on the preliminary site plans.

erty damage complaints could not be heard at the hearing but only after condemnation of land. He said if the bureau approves plans, they are sent to the highway department for adoption. The governor signs them and land is condemned. Then the rights-of-way unit contacts each individual whose property is affected and a settlement is made.

If the property owners are not satisfied, they may make appeals, he said.

He said the hearing was held in accordance to the Federal Aid Act as amended in 1956. Public notices of Jan. 9 and 16, as advertised, were read by Rinehart. Everyone present was given an opportunity to speak.

Cumberland Auxiliary Will Sponsor Dance

NEW CUMBERLAND — A "cabaret" style dance will be held Saturday night in the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall, sponsored by the auxiliary of Adam Poe Post to raise funds for the March of Dimes. Dan McConnell's band will furnish music.

The Lions Club was out in "full force" for a Father's March on Polio Tuesday night despite near-zero temperatures. Squire John D. Herron, chairman of the March of Dimes campaign for the community, said. Reports on the amount collected will be presented soon.

Clark Pledges Aid To Boost Beaver's Free Food Supply

BEAVER — Beaver County commissioners received a telegram from Sen. Joseph Clark today offering his help to secure additional surplus food for the county.

Some 13,000 are on the surplus food rolls and the number is reported increasing. Supplies are reported low in the county.

Commissioners sent telegrams Tuesday to Sen. Clark, Rep. Frank M. Clark and state assemblymen for stepped-up aid.

Sen. Clark said he has arranged a meeting Friday afternoon with U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman and a state official to see what can be done.

He asked commissioners for details, which were sent special delivery today to him.

4 Are Injured In Collision

A head-on collision of a panel truck and car on a narrow township road near Salem Tuesday afternoon caused injuries to four, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

A car driven by Harold Koons, 22, of Salem R. D. 3 and the truck driven by Marjorie Berry, 35, of Robertsville slammed together head on at a hillcrest of the Salem Grange Rd. about 5 p. m.

Koons was treated at Salem Central Clinic for cuts of the mouth and lip.

Mrs. Berry suffered a laceration of the knee and bruises of the elbows; Thomas Berry, 12, received multiple lacerations of the head and face, and James Berry, 6, suffered a fractured leg. All were taken to Salem City Hospital.

There was considerable damage to both vehicles, officers said. James R. Horn, 19, of New Waterford R. D. was cited after his car collided with a sheriff's department cruiser operated by Chief Deputy James Miller, 34, of Salineville yesterday morning on Route 164 at Gavers.

Officers said Horn made a left turn toward a gas station and into the path of the cruiser, which hit the right rear of the car. He was charged with making an improper turn.

550 miles east of the Windward Islands, southern neighbors of the Leewards.

The Santa Maria, with Henrique Malta Galvao's hijackers in command, paused Monday off St. Lucia, one of the Windwards, and sent ashore eight crewmen, including one wounded severely by gunshot in the battle for the ship.

Messages from the Santa Maria this morning, handled in an exchange with an RCA station at Chatham, Mass., were "All well—don't worry" assurances from passengers to their homefolks.

A Navy spokesman at San Juan headquarters directing the search for the Portuguese liner said a radio fix had been obtained on a ship 500 miles southeast of Barbados that "might be the Santa Maria."

A check of that area proved fruitless.

At dawn the hunt moved north. The Neptunes, long-range reconnaissance planes, were under instructions to determine the position, course and speed of the ship. British radio monitors expressed belief the Santa Maria was on a course toward Angola. This is about 5,000 miles across the Atlantic from the West Indies.

Candidates

Board of Elections Tuesday afternoon as candidates for the primary continued to mount.

Councilman Norman R. Bucher filed yesterday afternoon for re-nomination as a member-at-large, confirming an earlier announcement.

The Salem candidates are: Lloyd Morrison, for treasurer; Charles A. Ehrhart, Fred Koenreich and Chris Papadakis Jr., all for councilman-at-large; James H. Kleinman and Albert Lesch, both for First Ward councilman, and Joseph F. Skrivank, for Third Ward councilman.

The Columbiana slate is comprised of: Lee Harold, for mayor; Adin Kauffman, for treasurer; James H. Bender, for village clerk; Paul J. Flynn, Edward G. Miller, Merl C. Berryman and Robert E. Exten, all for four-year Council terms; Willard Zellers, for one of two two-year Council terms, and Ray W. Fisher, for Board of Public Affairs.

All villages will elect four councilmen for four-year terms and two for two-year terms, following a change set up in a new Ohio law under which all village councilmen eventually will be named for four-year terms.

In another entry yesterday, Charles W. Kelley filed for the Republican nomination for Fourth Ward councilman at East Palestine.

The Election Board sent specifications today to county job printers, seeking bids on ballots for the primaries. Bids on both ballots and poll books will be opened Monday, Feb. 6.

GOP Club To Elect
EAST PALESTINE — Officers will be elected at a meeting of the Men's Republican Club Thursday night at 8 at the City Hall. Plans will be completed for the primary election. Some 18 Republicans are circulating petitions for the primary, it was announced.

Relaxed, Happy Ex-President Having 'Time Of His Life'

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — A relaxed and buoyantly happy Dwight D. Eisenhower is having the time of his life today, forgetting the cares and problems of eight years in the presidency.

After nine hours in the hunting fields of the sprawling Blue Springs plantation Tuesday, the former president said: "Oh, it was just lovely."

He wasn't entirely satisfied with his performance — "I was shooting a little bit too low for a while"—but he came back with a full bag of quail.

Guest of honor at an elaborate two-hour picnic lunch under the trees deep within the isolated 15,000-acre plantation, he circulated among the 55 guests, laughing, joking and talking on topics ranging from Khrushchev to quail hash.

A longtime friend, George B. Allen, said, "I have never seen him as completely relaxed."

"Neither have I," agreed William E. Robinson, another old friend.

Allen, a Gettysburg, Pa., neighbor, accompanied Eisenhower here for a week's hunting on the plantation owned by W. Alton Jones. Robinson is a Coca Cola Co. executive.

At the luncheon—including charcoal broiled quail — the former president turned serious for a moment in discussing Soviet Premier Khrushchev's seeming willingness to better U.S.-Soviet relations.

He said before any American could place any faith in any Soviet peace overture, Khrushchev would have to back up his words with deeds.

To Build New Plant

CLEVELAND (AP) — Goodrich-Gulf Chemicals, Inc., of Cleveland, announced it will begin construction immediately of a multi-million dollar plant at Institute, W. Va., where it will produce a synthetic rubber in commercial quantities.

Accidental Discharge Of Shotgun Kills Man

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The discharge of a shotgun fired accidentally caught Clayton Chaney, 22, in the chest Tuesday night and killed him. A friend, Dale Hofbauer, 24, of Rossford, told police he had been fingering the hammer of the 20-gauge weapon, owned by Chaney, when it discharged.

The two were in Chaney's trailer home in suburban Oregon. Dr. Robert Swindaman, assistant coroner, ruled accidental death.

'Real Pickup' In Steel Seen During March

NEW YORK (AP)—A "real improvement" in steel production now is in prospect for March, the Iron Age said today.

Said the metalworking weekly magazine:

"Some good automotive orders came out of Detroit last week—but for March tonnage. March now is shaping up much better than January and February."

"Much of the set back tonnage has been booked for March and the rate of ordering for the month looks much better than the January-February period."

The current market was described as a standoff—with severe order cutbacks from the auto industry for flat-rolled products counter-balancing improvement in orders from general steel users.

The magazine noted pickups in new orders from farm implement makers, appliance makers, oil country goods jobbers, general steel users," Iron Age said.

Cited as an encouraging sign was increasing evidence that most steel users are now buying for current use instead of cutting back inventories.

"This in itself is a good prop in the market and gives hope for a strong seasonal upturn when and if auto sales pick up," the magazine said.

Boards Of Education To Hear Psychologists

LISBON — Psychologists and guidance counselors of four school districts — East Palestine, Leetonia, Lisbon and Columbiana — will present the program at the joint meeting of the Boards of Education and superintendents at Heck's Restaurant in Columbiana tonight at 6:30.

The boards meet several times during the year to discuss school matters and educational procedures involving the four.

Cornell Monda, Lisbon school psychologist, is chairman of the program group.

To Run For Mayor

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — John Bricker, 64, second cousin of the former U.S. senator from Ohio, Tuesday took out petitions at the Stark County Board of Elections to seek the Republican nomination for mayor of Canton. Bricker, unsuccessful candidate for county commissioner last year, is a sales supervisor for a Canton beverage firm.

2 Machines To Speed Billings To Relatives

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Contracts were signed Tuesday for two bookkeeping machines to speed up billings to relatives of patients in Ohio's mental institutions. The Mental Hygiene Department has been under criticism recently for tardiness on collections by its Bureau of Support.

The contracts, signed by Director Robert A. Haines of the department with the National Cash Register Co., are for $1,000 for each machine per month for one year. The Finance Department declined to approve outright purchase, pending action by the legislature on bills which may alter the collection arrangement, but the rent on the machines can be applied toward eventual purchase.

Champagne, when well made and placed in cool cellars, retains its quality for from 10 to 20 years.

Getting Old, Faded Look

Support For Castroism Dwindling In Venezuela

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst
CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Signs reading "Cuba, yes — Yankee, no," are beginning to have an old and faded look.

Occasionally one sees the slogan scratched out, and in its place is scrawled something like: "Venezuela yes, Castro no."

Castroism still has support in Venezuela's cities.

This metropolis of 1.2 million has painful contrasts between abundance and poverty. Caracas' modern areas show prospering evidence of what U.S. purchases of Latin America's raw materials can mean. But in many areas thousands of persons live in shacks, and there Castro remains a symbol of defiance toward the rich uncle in the north.

Many a young man in the university and high schools blames everything on the United States, considers Venezuela's oil riches a curse rather than a blessing, believes the oil has meant domination from the north and benefits only the few who prospered under the fallen dictatorship of Perez Jimenez.

The young men are impatient for change. But today, even in the university, Castro and the Communists seem to be losing ground.

The Communist party has 35,000 to 50,000 card-carrying members, a large number for a country of 7 million. To a large extent they are disciplined and obey party orders.

Castroism is represented in the extreme leftist MIR—Movimiento de Izquierda Revolucionario or Movement of the Revolutionary Left—a group that broke off from President Romulo Betancourt's Accion Democratica party.

The Communist party's main drive has been toward the labor movement and youth. And in the labor movement President Betancourt, a shrewd politician, outwitted and defeated the Communists.

Paradoxically, Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro helped the anti-Communists and anti-Castroists. When Castro announced the arrest of labor leader David Salvador in Havana, it was evident to many in the Venezuelan Labor Federation that a free labor movement in Cuba had disappeared.

In December the Communists gambled in an attempt against the Betancourt government. They called for a general strike. It failed. Accion Democratica's line hardened. Betancourt supporters took charge of the labor federation. The Betancourt forces became tougher with each defeat of a Communist thrust. During the December violence, a number of MIR and Communist leaders were arrested. The extreme left was caught amid confusion and bickering, and in the rest of the labor movement there remained little doubt that Castroism had lost much of its appeal.

"I never thought I'd see the day," commented a U.S. businessman in Caracas, "when I'd be praying that Romulo Betancourt would remain in the presidency of Venezuela."

The comment reflects a dramatic shift of opinion among North Americans.

High-powered public relations campaigns in the United States, financed by such enemies of Betancourt as Perez Jimenez and dictator Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic, have been attempting to place the brand of Communist on Venezuela's president.

Betancourt once was a Communist, about a quarter century ago, but today he is among the men most hated by the Communist party in Latin America.

At one time Betancourt also was a supporter of Castro's revolution in Cuba, and Castro had other ardent admirers in Venezuela. Today, relations between Cuba and Venezuela are tense.

"In a sense," said one high Betancourt government official, "I suppose we owe Fidel Castro a debt of gratitude. What happened in Cuba centered United States attention on the affairs of Latin America. Castro so far overreached himself and became so ensnared by the Communists that the eyes of others who might have looked upon him as a symbol of a new Latin America era were opened."

Venezuela's own revolution, overthrowing the cruel and wasteful dictatorship of Perez Jimenez, antedated Castro's accession to power by a year. Then free elections elected Betancourt three weeks before Castro took over in Havana.

Today there is a good chance Venezuela will demonstrate that its revolution can accomplish what Cuba's might have done, had it taken a different direction.

"What we need, principally," says one of Betancourt's aides, "is understanding from the United States that this is Venezuela and that we cannot attack our problems by North American standards. We must show that we can work out our problems in our own way and that we can do it without being accused of being under Yankee domination. We need help from the United States, but we also need a calm appraisal. We want the United States in short, to be truly a good neighbor and not to identify itself solely with big U.S. industry here in Venezuela."

The eternal problem of Latin America — abject poverty in the midst of visible riches — generates anti-Yankeeism. But little anti-Yankeeism is detected at the government level or in the ranks of Betancourt's Accion Democratica party. There is, on the contrary, much evidence of hope that the United States will make a new approach to Latin America.

Local Check Case Tied To Youngstown Arrest

A man in custody of Youngstown police has been linked tentatively with a case in which a phony $235 check was passed Monday on the Firestone Store at 420 E. 5th St.

Police Chief Americo Radeschi said today.

In the local case, a man gave the company a check after purchasing two tires, taking the difference in cash, the chief said. He said Youngstown police have arrested a man on a similar charge involving a Firestone store there.

No charges have been filed locally. There was no trace of the tires allegedly purchased here when the suspect was apprehended by the Youngstown department, the chief said.

Wealthy Oilman Dies

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—John E. Mabey, 81, millionaire oilman and philanthropist whose early life was that of a poor sharecropper, died Tuesday. Mabey, who was virtually penniless when he came to Oklahoma in 1907, built a fortune in oil holdings. He was born in Cedar County, Mo.

Bee Colonies Show Decline

LISBON — The number of bee colonies in Columbiana County declined in 1960, according to the annual report of William Marty, county apiary inspector, who said the number of apiaries rose.

There were 399 apiaries last year, with 1,757 colonies, compared to 376 apiaries with 1,876 colonies in 1959.

Marty said 122 colonies were winter-killed, compared to 309 during the winter of 1959. There were 32 colonies burned because of foul brood, 11 colonies were queenless, 5 had cross combed and one had sac brood.

Elkrun Township continued its leadership with the most colonies — 222, while Liverpool Township had the least — 28 hives.

A breakdown of the bee population in each township, followed by the number killed by cold, shows:

St. Clair — 121 colonies, 19 winter-killed; Liverpool — 28, 5; Madison — 109, 4; Elkrun — 222, 23; Unity — 191, 23; Middleton — 60, 4; Fairfield — 165, 10; Salem — 130, 7.

Perry — 36; Knox — 141, 3; Yellow Creek — 89, 8; West — 66, 5; Hanover — 117; Butler — 63, 5; Washington — 69, 4; Wayne — 71, 4.

Marty reported foul brood was on the increase last year, blaming it on use by beekeepers of old hives and failing to clean the hives properly. Foul brood kills the larvae before they become bees, causing the eventual death of the colony for lack of replacement.

Scenic Pictures Shown For Quota

Color slides of a trip through Nova Scotia were screened by Miss Phyllis Crook when she entertained the Quota Club Tuesday night at her home on W. 5th St. Some 26 attended.

Mrs. Ellen McLain was program chairman. Miss Justine Miller, president, conducted business. She reminded the club annual reports and total service hours must be turned in at the meeting Feb. 28 at the Travelers Hotel.

Miss Mildred McGregor reported Don Eckert supplied the tape for the hearing recorder used at the Hearing and Speech Clinic in operation each Saturday at Westgate School.

Dr. Edith Gilmore, ways and means chairman, announced there is more peanut brittle and dish towels for sale.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Gladys DeBolt, Mrs. Ruth Parsons and Mrs. Ila Shingler. Guests were Miss Mary Paull, Miss Ann Allison, Miss Margaret Baum and Mrs. Gladys Lemon.

The next luncheon meeting will be Feb. 14 at the hotel.

Youngstown Motorist Fined On Patrol Charge

William L. Hopkins, 61, of Youngstown was fined $25 and costs, with $15 suspended, when he pleaded guilty today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on an improper passing charge filed by the State Highway Patrol.

The patrol said Hopkins was cited Jan. 18 on Route 30 near Route 170 for one of a series of 3 violations of laws regulating passing of other vehicles. Twice he passed over a yellow center line and on another occasion in the same stretch he pulled onto the berm to go around three vehicles on the right, he patrol said.

A hearing also is scheduled today for Ronnie Lee Hackathorn of Leetonia, cited Jan. 6 on a charge of failure to yield the right-of-way after a collision on W. 8th St. near Chestnut St. He has been free on a $31 bond.

House Hits Car

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A house struck a car here, damaging the vehicle to the extent of about $200. The five-room bungalow was being moved under police direction when it smacked into a parked car on a street.

Fairview Grange Sets Card Party

Plans for a public card party March 18 at the Pughtown Grange Hall were made at a meeting of the Fairview Grange Tuesday night.

Proceeds will be used for the building repair fund, and the projects committee will be in charge. An offering of $3 was received for the March of Dimes. Mrs. Rose Hukill was in charge of the program, which included members listing objectives for the Grange for 1961.

A New Year's candlelight ceremony was held at the close. Lunch was served by Mrs. Pearl Cullen and committee. Charles Mills, master, was in charge.

TV Star's Mother Dies

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Mary Louise Morfit, 80, mother of television star Garry Moore, died Tuesday after a long illness. Moore's real name is Thomas Garrison Morfit. Another son, Dr. H. Mason Morfit, is associate professor of surgery at the University of Colorado Medical Center in Denver. Mrs. Morfit was born in Kent County, Md.

Daily Exercise Called Good Medicine

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

Watching TV, the average adult burns up about 1 1/4 calories per minute.

In two hours, he spends 150 calories, only 30 more than in two hours of sleeping.

A latehour TV snack of food or drink can put it all back. And the 150 calories might represent just half of a luscious dessert.

Thus, the human calorie bank may acquire more "savings," resulting in creeping obesity, bane of millions of Americans. In most cases, obesity is blamed simply upon consuming more calories than are expended.

Last of three articles.

If calories were money, most Americans would be rich — they bank more than they spend.

EATING just 50 extra calories a day — 350 in a week — in 10 weeks equals 3,500 calories, the number in one pound of body weight. That little daily excess can put on five pounds in a year.

But spending 50 extra calories each day could melt off five pounds in a year, without cutting down on calories now consumed in a week or year. The little pluses or minuses add up significantly over time, Dr. Herbert Pollack of New York City points out.

A 15-minute brisk walk spends 75 calories.

And 75 calories equals one sliver of apple pie; or 1 1/4 ounces of a chilled martini; or 1/4 ounce of cheese; one tablespoonful of heavy whipping cream; just one baking powder biscuit without butter; or six ounces of beer or a cola drink. It only makes a dent in the 400 calories of a chocolate sundae.

Spending more calories through regular, moderate exercise is being urged by many doctors and physiologists as a means of losing or maintaining weight, and as likely protection for your heart.

THE ASSASSIN OF inactivity, they believe, has as henchmen two common fallacies:

The myth we must all slack off and take it easy after 40.

The notion we can't lose weight through exercise.

Thirty years ago, doctors generally did advise taking it real easy after 40.

But now the medical pendulum has swung to the belief that regular daily exercise suited to personal conditions — and not just the weekend athletics — is good medicine.

Indolence tends to add weight, and speed up degenerative diseases, if not take some fun out of life. Easy modern life with cars, labor-saving gadgets and mechanization makes planned activity and exercise all the more important.

"Most of us don't wear out — we rust out," says Dr. Theodore G. Klump of New York, a proponent of continued activity and exercise throughout life.

Hard work never hurt a healthy heart, and probably protects it, many authorities hold, including Dr. Paul Dudley White, a lean dynamo at 74, and a bicycling and hiking enthusiast who prescribed more exercise for his most famous patient, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

NOT ALL students of heart disease are convinced exercise and fitness cut the risk of coronaries. But many point to evidence such as this:

1.—Lower heart attack rates are found among men whose jobs require considerable physical labor, walking, or other movements, compared with those who sit at desks or have other non-action jobs.

2.—Exercise can help control obesity, which boosts chance of heart attacks, high blood pressure, diabetes and perhaps other diseases.

3.—There is suggestive evidence that exercise somehow helps reduce blood cholesterol levels.

4.—Exercise can make a heart develop richer, stronger circulation. This could stand in good stead if a heart attack hits.

5.—Exercise reduces tensions, making you less likely to explode at children, spouse or boss, and adds to endurance and ability to meet emergencies.

Regular exercise can burn up calories without necessarily whetting the appetite.

"Many persons think exercise cannot help in losing weight, because they hear you must walk 35 miles to lose one pound," says one physician.

"But who is saying you must do it all in one day? Small daily increases in physical activity add up. If you gorge one day, you can wipe out the gain by increasing activity a bit more for a while."

OBESITY can sneak up because as we age, we need fewer calories — each year about 10 less per day — to hold our weight.

"A young man eating 2,800 calories a day can gain 40 pounds in 40 years if he maintains that same intake and same activity," Dr. Pollack reports.

Most jobs today take less physical work than formerly. Indeed, most men's jobs "are a cinch compared with housework," remarks Dr. Herman K. Hellerstein of Cleveland.

The average housewife can spend 6 calories per minute while actually doing housework, but it is lower the more she uses machines and labor-saving devices. The average desk worker spends only 1.6 per minute; the factory worker about 2, and coal miners 4 plus, he finds.

Activity and calorie spending can vary, of course, in the same classification of job. A top executive may push buttons to summon lesser executives who come running on command.

Calories are units of energy or heat produced by oxidation or burning of food in the body. Caloric expenditure varies with individuals — depending partly on age, weight (the heavier you are, the more you spend doing any given task), height, activity, and sex.

WOMEN have far fewer heart attacks than men, at least through ages 50 to 55. This is generally credited to some protective effect from female sex hormones.

But after menopause or change of life, women become more vulnerable, presumably because their sex hormone production declines. Their greater activity rearing children and running a busy household may have some slight protective effect, too. Many women become less active when children leave home, but may continue to eat just as much, and so put on weight.

As for spending calories, look to some figures from Dr. Pollack:

Standing quietly, the average person burns about 9 more calories per hour than when sitting quietly. And the person who never stands still may burn 66 more calories more per hour than the relaxed stander.

Take a typist, 5-foot-3, weighing 120 pounds.

She uses 87.7 calories per hour working a standard mechanical typewriter, but only 72.7 with an electric typewriter — 15 less.

In six hours' work, she uses 90 calories less on the electrical machine — 450 a week, enough to equal one pound of weight in eight weeks.

An average man playing 18 holes of golf, walking four miles in three hours, spends 950 calories.

Gardening for three hours, he spends 560.

Dancing for an hour, then sitting and talking for two hours, costs him 400. If he just sits for three hours, he spends 275. And he can easily cancel that out by what he eats or drinks.

About 75 calories are spent in walking briskly for 15 minutes, swimming a fast crawl for five minutes, or working out on a rowing machine for 10.

Assistants Named For 2 CD Platoon

Two assistant platoon leaders were named Tuesday night when the 2nd and 5th Platoons of the 31st Mobile Support Group met in the Glenmoor fire station.

Everett London was appointed as assistant to Kenneth Long, leader of the 5th Platoon, and Denver Brereton was named as assistant to James Cunningham, 2nd Platoon leader.

Dates were announced for a series of future area Civil Defense events. There will be staff meetings Feb. 6 and March 13 at the CD center in Alliance. A meeting of staff members and personnel is set April 28 at Lisbon and there will be an alert April 29 at 10 a. m. at the Lisbon CD center.

Clarence Ammon resigned as CD police captain and was succeeded by Dudley DeBolt. Long presided. The meeting opened with prayer by the Rev. Charles Kampmeyer of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, chaplain. Refreshments were served.

The next meeting is Feb. 7.

Police, FBI Hunt Man In $9,000 Robbery

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Police and FBI agents are searching for 22-year-old Richard Crayton. The Columbus man is wanted for questioning in the $9,000 robbery Monday of the State Savings Co.

Police said they traced a car a well-groomed gunman used to Crayton's mother. The gunman held employees at bay with a .22 caliber revolver during the robbery.

150 Expected At Boss Night

Over 150, the largest crowd in several years, are expected to attend the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Bosses Night banquet tonight at 6:30 at the Country Club.

The event, one of the highlights of Jaycee activities, will feature several new phases this time.

Highlighting the program will be Eddie Finnegan of Cleveland, sports personality, as the speaker. Athletic director at Western Reserve University, he is known for having coached Harrison Dillard, Baldwin-Wallace College athlete who won Olympic honors.

The dinner also will feature the presentation of the 15th annual Civic Service Award and the 19th annual Distinguished Service Award.

Ed Adkins will serve as toastmaster. James Allison, president, will give the welcome and Alvin Babb will offer the bosses' reply. Judge Louis Tobin will speak on Jaycee youth work.

Add sliced unpared apple to sauerkraut along with brown sugar and simmer until apples disintegrate. Good with ham, smoked tongue or frankfurters.

Midweek Church Services Are Set Up In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Midweek services for Protestants who work on Sundays and cannot attend church that day have been set up in Cleveland.

Sunday services will be held on Tuesday and Thursday mornings at several churches throughout the city.

The project is a venture of the West Park Ministerial Association. Participating will be twenty pastors, representing 14 congregations. The clergymen will take turns conducting the midweek services and preaching.

Dr. J. H. L. Trout, pastor emeritus of Bethany English Lutheran Church and chairman of the committee in charge, explained that Protestant pastors for years have wrestled with the problem of church attendance by members compelled to work Sundays. Catholic workers employed on Sunday may go to an early mass before going to work and also have the opportunity to worship on any day of the week, he said.

Clergymen have pointed out there is nothing scriptural or essential about scheduling church services on Sunday mornings. The practice arose, they note, in rural America a century ago, when farmers had to drive miles to their church and remained there most of the day.

Due Congress Monday

Kennedy Readies Sombre World, Domestic Message

By JACK BELL.
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy was reported today to be preparing a somber recital of world and domestic conditions in a State of the Union message he will deliver to Congress Monday.

Associates said the President feels Congress and the country should be given what he regards as a realistic appraisal of turbulent global conditions and a hesitating economy at home.

Democratic leaders with whom Kennedy discussed the message at a White House conference Tuesday said they expect him to cover the Congo, Laos and other world trouble spots and to discuss mounting unemployment at home.

They anticipate Kennedy will follow this up with a series of messages outlining specific legislative proposals and suggesting changes in the $90.9-billion budget former President Dwight D. Eisenhower sent Congress Jan. 16. An economic message will deal broadly with business conditions and might suggest some tax changes. If it is not included in this, a separate message may recommend early action on a measure to aid depressed areas of chronic unemployment. It was believed possible the President might link this with a request for funds to bolster unemployment compensation payments.

Without even waiting for Kennedy to lay down his proposals, congressional Republicans organized their Senate and House forces for a "battle of the budget." Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois predicted it will be the overriding issue in the 1961 session.

Dirksen and Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the House minority leader, agreed to meet weekly with four colleagues from each house to map Republican strategy.

Dirksen indicated that Eisenhower will be called on for advice when Kennedy suggests changes in the defense budget the former president submitted. He said former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, and others will be called in when issues come up with which they are familiar. Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, the Republican national chairman, will serve the conference as its presiding officer.

Brief Illness Fatal

CHICAGO (AP) — Samuel A. Montgomery, 64, vice president and a director of Standard Oil Co. (Indiana), died Tuesday after a brief illness. He joined the firm as a chemist in 1919 and had served as manager of the Whiting, Ind., refinery. He was elected to the board of directors and named general manager of manufacturing in 1951. He was born in Osborn, Miss.

Retarded School Details Outlined

Reports on administrative details of the Columbiana County Retarded Children's Council centralized school at Elkton were given at a meeting Tuesday night at the school.

Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, spoke on some aspects of the administration. It was announced the annual convention of the Ohio Retarded Children's Council will be held April 21-23 at Akron.

Mrs. Harold Martzoff, one of the three teachers, reported Dr. Roderick Purcell, state mental hygiene officer, had visited the school in December and reported favorably on its operations.

Don Mackey, president, was in charge of the meeting attended by 14. The next meeting will be Feb. 28 when Hubert Lawrence, county school psychologist, will be guest speaker.

Ex-School Head Dies

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A former superintendent of schools in Muskingum and Jefferson counties, Ferdinand D. Ring, died Tuesday at his home in nearby Dresden. He was 83. Ring retired in 1950 after more than 50 years of service in the Ohio public school system.

Local Auto Damaged In Skidding Accident

A city man's auto was damaged slightly in a skidding mishap Tuesday at 12:15 p. m. on Route 66, a mile south of Waterford Park race track, Hancock County. Sheriff's deputies reported today. Deputies said the auto of Chalmers C. Gooch, 43, of 518 E. Valley Ln., received a banged in door when struck by the rear of the car of Theodore J. Zagula, 43, of New Cumberland R. D. 2. Both autos were attempting to pass a lead car when the mishap occurred. Deputies listed damages of about $40 to the East Liverpool man's car.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Child Can't Be Forced To Concentrate

In many letters from parents about the school child who lags in one or all subjects, the statement appears that this child does not concentrate.

Usually the parent writes that the teachers say the child doesn't concentrate. The assumption by the parent and teacher is that there must be some way to persuade or force a child to concentrate. It's possible to do either for a few moments, as when a teacher quietly asks the inattentive child to pay attention or shouts at him to do so, or when the almost insane parent shrieks at the youngster or gives him a blow. But at best, concentration then may be only temporary.

You might be able to require a child to turn his head and eyes and assume a physical posture of attention. But you can't be sure you can direct what goes on inside his head. You can't be sure you can force him to attend to what is at hand or to concentrate on it for an appreciable time.

HE MUST be interested in order to be really attentive and to keep concentrating, which is the same as saying that he must be succeeding at learning. We get the cart before the horse when we say the child would learn better if he attended better, concentrated better. Instead, we should know he will concentrate better when he learns better.

When a child habitually does not concentrate on the lesson at hand, our problem is to find ways to help him enjoy more success at this lesson, as at spelling, reading or arithmetic.

More often than not his chief trouble is with reading. He can't go far in solving arithmetic problems if he can't read them with ease.

By the time he is in the fourth or fifth grade, nearly every subject at school requires reading, including history, geography and science. Usually the child who lags or fails in such subjects really lags or fails in reading.

THEREFORE when your child's teacher complains to you that your child does not pay attention, doesn't concentrate at school, you can't hope to make him pay attention and concentrate better at school by commanding him to do so.

While you should let him know you expect him to observe the regulations at school and at home, your main concern should be to find ways by which he may enjoy more success at learning from books.

My "Home Helps in Reading, Spelling, Arithmetic and Handwriting" and "The Child Who Doesn't Concentrate" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

MEMO:

TO FOLKS WHO WANT TO SAVE MONEY
LOBLAW CUSTOMERS ACTUALLY SAVE THEIR FOOD SAVINGS!

HERE'S HOW . . .

When you make savings at a food store, do you take home those savings and put them away to build toward things you really want and need? You do if you are a Loblaws shopper with "take home savings" in stamps!

But if your food savings are all in cash—"loose change savings"—they may be frittered away on the less important things before you even get home with the groceries.

At Loblaws you make both kinds of savings at the same time. You get "take home savings" with stamps on items you purchase, and with bonus stamps. You get "loose change savings" on items we sell at reduced prices (and we have lots of 'em this week).

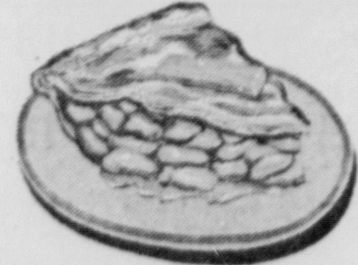

Yes, Loblaws shoppers may use their "loose change savings" for whatever their whims decide. But they are serious about their stamps savings, those big "take home savings" are the nest eggs that grow into worthwhile merchandise they want and need . . . necessities, niceties, luxuries.

If you want to SAVE money, make certain that you save your savings! It is easy at Loblaws where you get savings that you CAN save.

For this week's "loose change savings" you'll find over 70 especially reduced grocery, meat and produce items at BIG savings in our stores. If you only select a handful, you'll have a pocketful of cash savings . . . plus fistfuls of stamp savings. A host of these reduced items are in this advertisement.

help your newspaperboy win a trip to Brazil as a Junior Reporter

A visit to a ranch—with an outdoor barbecue, songs around a campfire and gauchos showing off their expert horsemanship—is also included in the itinerary.

Spectacular is the word for the architecture of the exotic buildings in Brazil's modern new capital city, Brasilia.

The boys will swim at Copacabana Beach, one of the most famous and beautiful beaches in the world.

In Porto Alegre, where Varig's main base is located, the boys will get a behind-the-scenes glimpse of the airline's operations.

Sao Paulo, South America's greatest industrial center, is also the center of a vast coffee-producing region. More coffee flows through Sao Paulo than any other city in the world.

An unforgettable sight is the towering statue of Christ, which the "Junior Reporters" will visit, high atop Corcovado Mountain.

travel, fun,
adventure—
it's the trip of a lifetime!

What a great treat is in store for one of our carrierboys, perhaps the one who delivers your newspaper. Imagine! Sightseeing in New York! An exciting jet flight to Rio on Varig Airlines' magnificent new Boeing 707 Intercontinental Jet! A fun-packed tour of Brazil! The thrill of writing a story about the trip and seeing it appear in the newspaper under his own byline!

When your newspaperboy calls at your home to explain how you can help him win, welcome him. Your interest may be just the encouragement he needs to make his trip to Brazil come true.

REVIEW

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm employed in the kitchen of a state institution and there's so much monkey business going on that I can't keep still any longer. This is not a special situation. I've worked in state institutions elsewhere and it's the same.

I've seen institution employees eat food gifts which were sent to patients and then deny they saw the package. I've watched employees take home roasts, chickens, cans of coffee and jar of fruit. Trays of crackers are hidden in the ovens because no one wants to count them out. Quarts of hot coffee, platters of crisp bacon and eggs, bowls of butter and stacks of bread disappear into employees' dressing rooms.

When the board of visitors come they are served filet mignon and fresh strawberry shortcake. Then they go home and tell everyone the food is great. No one ever pops in unexpectedly to see what really is going on.

Don't tell me to report it. I tried this once and was laid off the following week. Something must be done from the top. — GOD HELP THE TAXPAYER.

Dear Friend: I consider your letter a public service. I'm sure many state institutions need cleaning up and such complaints as yours can help trigger action. The badly run institutions are an outrage in a country as well off as ours. It would be unfair, however, to accuse all state institutions of waste, incompetence and negligence.

You said: "No one ever pops in to see what really is going on." In Ohio last year many newspapers printed a picture of Gov. DiSalle just after a surprise visit to a mental hospital in Columbus. What he saw had made him ill.

Ohio's state institutions under Gov. DiSalle have been vastly improved. Wisconsin, California and Michigan are among the better ones, too. Most states still have a long way to go.

Two Lucky Dogs

Dear Ann: I have a close friend who is a widow. She lives alone in a lavish apartment with her two pet poodles. The dogs have velvet pillows in their wicker baskets. They eat choice filets and she takes them to Florida every winter.

Her two daughters married against her wishes and now they are having a rough time financially. The mother never gives them a dollar. What do you think of this? —AN OBSERVER.

Dear Observer: It sounds as if the daughters treated their mother like a dog and now the dogs are being treated like daughters.

Friend In Need

Dear Ann: I am a 17-year-old girl who needs an outsider's opinion. I know this sounds terrible but my best friend got into trouble with a boy. She went with this fellow for a year and thought she was in love. Her folks sent her to a home for unwed mothers and she gave up her baby for adoption.

Now that she's home everyone has turned their backs on her. She needs friends more than ever but my folks don't want me to go with her. My mother says, "A leopard never changes its spots." Is she right? — CELE.

Dear Cele: Your girl friend isn't a leopard — she's human — and humans often change. She needs kindness at this time, now more than ever. I hope your folks will encourage you to continue the friendship.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Food Distribution Slated In Beaver

Dates for distribution of surplus food early in February to nearby Beaver County communities have been announced by Benedict Zupi, surplus food administrator.

Food will be distributed Friday, Feb. 3, from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. at the Midland Borough Garage on Railroad Ave. to recipients living and registered in Midland, Industry, Smiths Ferry and Ohio Township.

Hookstown, Shippingport and Georgetown recipients will receive food Thursday, Feb. 6, from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. at the Hookstown Borough Building.

Those registered in Frankfort Springs Borough, Greene and Hanover Townships will receive food also on Thursday, Feb. 6, but from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. at the D. S. Wilcoxen service station at Frankfort Springs.

Stolen Car Recovered; Another's Still Missing

Two autos were stolen in East Liverpool Tuesday night, but one was found abandoned shortly and the other still is being sought, police reported.

Officers are continuing a search for a 1956 DeSoto four-door sedan with license L-1957-A which Charles Aikens, 415 Prospect St., said was taken from a parking place near his home between 7:44 and 7:49 last night. The car contained a fishing rod, a tool kit, a flashlight and two silver dollars, he said.

A 1953 four-door sedan which Robert Henthorne, 734 Sophia St., reported stolen from his home between 5 and 8 p. m. was found in the 900 block of St. Clair Ave. at 10:07 by Patrolman W. E. Nott, police said.

Musical Hit With City Vocalist To Be Made Movie

Wayne Ward, former local resident, who is appearing with the Buffalo Bills quartet in the New York musical hit, "Music Man," will go to the West Coast for the filming of the show.

The quartet won tryouts for the movie production and will be in Hollywood for eight weeks. The Broadway show has been running for over three years and the final performance will be Feb. 25. They will be replaced by "The Easter-naires" quartet.

The group is due in Hollywood on March 29 and Ward plans to visit here for 2 weeks before the trip west. His father is Frank Ward of Shady Lane Dr., Fisher Park, and his sisters are Mrs. Donald Alexander of Michigan Ave. and Mrs. Clark Grimm of Lisbon St.

He is married to the former Theda Yocum of Lisbon, former supervisor of Salem City Hospital, and with their two children, Wendy, 3, and Scotty, 18 months, will accompany him to the coast. The couple recently built a home in Ridgeway, N. J.

The Buffalo Bills are featured in a Luden's commercial on TV. They recently appeared for the General Electric Show at Madison Square Garden and completed an engagement at the Empire Room of New York City. They have headlined barbershop parades all over the country.

J. F. Russell Elected Head Of Savings Firm

J. Frederick Russell has been elected president of the Perpetual Savings & Loan Co. at Wells-ville.

Russell succeeds Myer Reich. Arthur Miller was re-elected vice president and Atty. Raymond Knepper was returned as secretary and attorney. Miss Joyce Imburgia was elected treasurer to succeed Miss Elizabeth Smith. Russell and Miller was installed as directors for three-year terms. The other directors are Reich, Knepper and John W. Charlton. The directors declared a 30 per cent stock dividend and paid a 5 per cent cash dividend for the past year.

Floyd Lower May Get High Ruritan Office

LISBON — Floyd Lower of Lisbon, veteran Columbiana County agricultural extension agent, is expected to be nominated for vice president of Ruritan National at the annual convention in Washington Jan. 29-31.

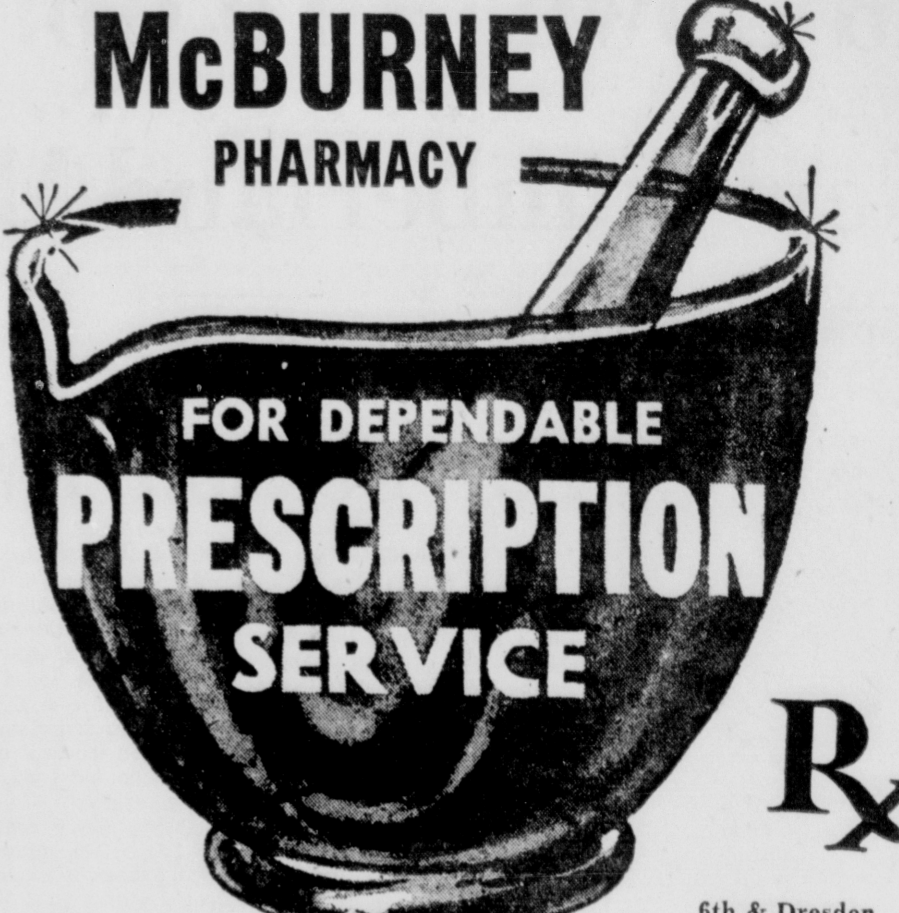

Lower was governor of Ruritan's Ohio District in 1958-59.

Don Myers, Allen Dickey and R. Dale Miller will represent the Lisbon club and will attend along with Lower.

Monaca Upsets Midland; JU Tops Chester At Foul Line

Leopards And Beaver Tied

A 32-point performance by Monaca's Sam Peshut sent Midland crashing to a 60-53 defeat in a Section 8 upset Tuesday night on the small Monaca court.

By pulling the upset, Monaca threw the league into a two-way tie between Midland and Beaver which have 5-1 records as the first half of the Section 8 schedule ended last night.

At the same time, Monaca put itself very much into contention. The Indians are now 4-2 in section play.

Midland got off to a bad start, trailing 19-15 at the end of the first quarter and 34-33 at halftime.

A poor third quarter, which produced only three points for the Leopards, was the knockout blow. When the third period had ended, Monaca had jumped in front, 45-36.

Peshut, a 6-foot-4 junior, couldn't be stopped. His onslaught of points came on jumping one-handers mostly out of the corners of the gymnasium.

A red-hot scorer for the Indians all season, Peshut hit on 13 field goals and was six-for-six from the foul line.

Midland couldn't adjust to the Monaca court and hit 29 per cent on 19 of 64. Monaca fired 39 per cent with 24 of 61.

Jim Perkins and Al Alai carried the burden of the Midland attack with 17 and 15 points, respectively. Carl Anderson came up with 10 points while Sam Forester tossed in eight.

The loss snapped Midland's win string at six straight, which included its last exhibition game and five straight Section 8 battles.

Earl Vaughn's 15 points paced the Midland reserves to a 53-26 win over the Monaca jayvees.

Lane Active Again, Turns To Orioles For 5 Players

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Trader Frank Lane has turned to the Baltimore Orioles and come up with five players in an effort to strengthen the Kansas City Athletics at shortstop and catcher.

In his first deal as the A's general manager, Lane shuffled outfielders Russ Snyder and Whitey Herzog off to Baltimore.

The A's got catcher Clint Courtney, outfielder Al Pillarick, first baseman Bob Boyd, pitcher Jim Archer and infielder Wayne Causey.

In addition, Lane said, the A's will option an unnamed player to the Orioles' farm club at Rochester in the Class AAA International League.

"This is the type of deal

we needed to make in order to start spring training respectably," Lane said.

Prior to the deal, the Athletics had only one shortstop, Dick Howser, a rookie who played last season with Shreveport of the Southern Association. As catchers, they had Haywood Sullivan, with limited and undistinguished major league experience, and Bill Bryan, a rookie up from Class D.

Lane expressed hope that Causey, 24, will push Howser for the shortstop job. As a bonus player, Causey spent 1955 and 1956 with the Orioles. He has been in the minors since then because of weak hitting.

Courtney, 33, has been in the majors eight years. He batted .228 in 154 times at bat last season as second string to Gus Triandos.

Of the other three obtained by the A's, Pillarick, 30, is the only one conceded a chance to play regularly. He batted .247 in 194 trips last season.

Lee MacPhail, president-general manager of the Orioles, said his main problem has been the outfield "and we acquired two fairly young outfielders who could help our ball club. I had both of them in the Yankee chain and have a great deal of respect for their ability and desire to play."

Snyder, 26, is one of the fastest runners in the league. He hit .313 in 1959 but fell off to .260 last year. Herzog, 29, was benched by an operation for a leg injury last Aug. 17, but his physician has said the operation was a success. Despite intense pain he batted .266.

Cards May Find Answer Right In Own System

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals' search for another hard-hitting outfielder and a catcher may wind up in their own ranks.

Rookies Chris Cannizzaro and Tim McCarver were two of the most prized receivers in the minor leagues last year. Don Landrum was one of the International League's top outfielders at Buffalo and Jim Hickman had an outstanding season at Tulsa.

Cannizzaro, only 22, made a deep impression on Solly Hemus last spring and despite his youth and obvious inexperience, the Cardinal manager toyed with the idea of keeping him with the club. Eventually sent to Rochester the 6-foot, 190 pound San Leandro, Calif., boy batted a modest .251 but he is capable of better things. The youngster had a good stroke, is an excellent receiver and a pitcher like to work with him.

McCarver, 19, was paid a big bonus two years ago. Last season, he hit .347 at Memphis, his home town.

Landrum cost the Cardinals five ball players and a bundle of cash, estimated at $50,000. Against International League pitching, he hit .292, leading the circuit in total bases (287), runs (112), hits (178) and doubles (35).

Hickman demonstrated extra base power in the Class A Texas League where he slammed 23 doubles, 10 triples and 15 home runs on a .323 batting average in 111 games.

Other new outfielders are Duke Carmel, who had only fair success at St. Paul and Rochester, not hitting above .250 at either club; Doug Clemens, a first year player who batted .389 in 39 games at Billings in the Class C Pioneer League; and Charley James, the former U. of Missouri football star. James, 22, batted .248 at Rochester and only .180 in 50 times at bat with the Cardinals but Hemus believes he will develop into a good hitter.

Next—Chicago White Sox.

Cleveland Hockey Club Creates New Position

CLEVELAND (AP) — Directors of the Cleveland Hockey Club have created a new position of chief executive director and named Thomas H. Roulston II, 28, to fill the post.

At the same time, the club directors said Tuesday they will not name a successor to James C. Hendy, general manager of the Cleveland Barons, until the close of the season. Hendy died last week.

Roulston is a director.

MacKay Ties Pair For Pro Tennis Lead

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Dayton's Barry MacKay moved into a first-place tie with Pancho Gonzales and Andres Gimeno in Jack Kramer's touring professional tennis tournament Tuesday night. The former Davis Cupper, playing before a hometown crowd, downed Gonzales 8-5.

In other matches Alex Olmedo dumped Earl Buchholz 8-3 and Gimeno lost to Lew Hoad 8-6. The three leaders have won six of 11 matches.

Chamberlain Held To 16 As Hawks Edge Warriors

By The Associated Press
Stop Wilt Chamberlain, and there's a good chance that you can beat the Philadelphia Warriors.

The St. Louis Hawks did that Tuesday night — limiting Wilt to 16 points — and emerged with a 114-112 victory over Philadelphia. The triumph was the Hawks' 11th straight at home while the loss was the Warriors' sixth in a row on their current road trip.

Elgin Baylor clicked for 56 points — his highest output at home since the Lakers moved to Los Angeles — as the Lakers turned back the Syracuse Nats 116-107. In other games the Boston Celtics whipped the New York Knicks 125-112 and the Detroit Pistons edged the Cincinnati Royals 106-104.

Chamberlain's production was his lowest in regular season play for a full game.

Guarded mainly by Clyde Lovellette and Woody Sauldsberry, Chamberlain collected four of his 16 points in the final moments as the Hawks avoided fouling him. Bob Pettit's 37 points were high for the Hawks.

Baylor, who set the all-time NBA scoring record of 71 points earlier this season against New York, collected 14 points in the final quarter to break open a close game.

Bob Cousy connected for 19 of his 33 points in the third period to spark the Celts to their success over the Knicks.

Detroit staged off a late Cincinnati rally for the Pistons' sixth consecutive victory over the Royals. Jack Twyman scored 17 of his 37 points in the final period to trigger Cincinnati's futile surge.

Westgate Tops Beaver Local

Westgate walked to its seventh victory in eight games this season by measuring Beaver Local, 60-17.

Tom Baker fired in 16 points and Bruce Burbick added 13 to pace the Wildcats. Westgate took a 15-0

Jackets Convert 20 Of 23

Some of the classiest foul shooting for a schoolboy outfit was displayed in awesome fashion Tuesday night at Chester by Len Mosser's Jefferson Union squad.

The foul line was JU's margin of victory in a 48-44 decision over the Panthers.

Jefferson Union was outgated from the field, 17-14, but stood at the foul line and made 20 of 23. With the score tied at 25-25 when the third quarter ended, the uncanny Yellowjackets made 15 of 15 from the charity line in the fourth quarter for a feat almost unheard of in high school basketball.

Glenn Dickerson, leading high school scorer in the Ohio Valley, paved the way for Jefferson Union with a 27-point barrage. Dickerson dropped in 11 of 13 foul shots and eight fielders.

His teammate Tulencik added 11 points, including a perfect night of seven-for-seven fouls.

JU held a 10-8 edge at the end of the first quarter and 20-16 by halftime. Blaine Pinney, who had his best night of the season by flashing some of his fine form of a year ago, scored 23 points last night and tied the count at 25-25 at the end of the third quarter.

It was Pinney's foul that knotted the count at 28-28 early in the fourth quarter. However, this was to be the final tie as JU pulled out by margins of four-to-six points during the remainder of the contest.

The defeat was Chester's ninth in 12 games. Pinney was the lone Chester starter to gain the double figures. Bill Mackall added eight points.

JU swept a doubleheader when the Yellowjacket reserves topped Chester, 40-24.

Mosser, the JU varsity coach, is formerly of Newell.

Robbie Signs, Recalls Feud With Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP) — Frank Robinson, slugging Cincinnati Redleg, stormed near an indefinite suspension last April over the first base job he hates, according to the Cincinnati Enquirer.

In today's editions, sportswriter Bill Ford said former general manager Gabe Paul cleared up the matter which erupted in his office just 24 hours before the National League season was to open.

Ford said Robinson, told by Manager Fred Hutchinson he would start at first base, went to Paul who upheld his field boss.

Robinson stormed to the office door, Ford said, but was recalled by Paul who cautioned him on what might happen if he walked out on the Reds and suggested he talk the matter over.

Robinson, 25, signed for 1961 Tuesday with the Reds' new boss, Bill DeWitt. When asked about the session with Paul last April, he said:

"I didn't like to play first base and I haven't changed my mind one bit. I'm an outfielder. I signed as an outfielder."

Would he balk again this year at playing first?

Robby nodded.

Would he balk if a pay hike was included?

"Well, that's a different story," said Robby.

Robinson started on first base last season and later shifted to the outfield after the Reds brought up Gordon Coleman.

The first beaver reported taken in Columbiana County was brought in by Don Barnes of Lisbon and Ray Lawrence of Toronto. It weighed 42 pounds.

This does not mean necessarily it was the first one taken, but it goes into the record book as the first one officially sealed as legal for more than 100 years.

The largest beaver taken so far weighed 48 pounds — by Charles Lohman of Salineville, in Beaver Creek, Franklin Township. The smallest weighed 9 pounds. It probably would have made a nice pet if taken alive.

A few beavers trapped had lost toes, no doubt having been mangled in a muskrat trap. One beaver had lost all his toes and part of the front foot.

I THINK all the trappers who skinned out the pelts will agree they are tough to handle. One pelt brought in had white fur on the belly. All the rest were a beautiful mahogany brown and in excellent condition.

There are an estimated 400 beavers which inhabit this county, indicating some 75 different colonies.

So far only 17 have been brought in. As was predicted, all the beaver dams, lakes and most of the streams were frozen over and the trappers could not get at them. If this is true, it is reasonable to assume that there will be another trapping season in Ohio. This remains to be seen, since the Wildlife Council holds the final decision on such matters.

The price the beaver pelts bring will have to be determined between the seller and the buyer.

I have my doubts that anyone knows the fair price for a beaver pelt trapped in Ohio until it reaches the fur market. The size, manner in which it was skinned and taken care of and the condition of the pelt should establish the value.

DRIVING through Washingtonville, I saw my first robin this winter.

I don't know if he is a winter robin or a summer robin, but one thing was sure, he was all robin. I have very little time to bird watch, but I usually notice anything that flies or moves when making my rounds.

Juncos, sometimes referred to as "snow-birds", can be seen by the dozens. When all activity seems to be halted by other birds and animals during a blizzard, these little birds are just as active as ever.

They strip the seeds from any blade of crab grass sticking up above the snow. During the winter they feed almost entirely on weed seed. In the summer they devour numerous insects along with wild fruit.

Project Delay Asked By Club

NEW CUMBERLAND — A proposal that construction of the sewage disposal system and improvements to the water system be delayed to accumulate a surplus of funds was presented Village Council Tuesday night by the Lions Club.

Atty. Edwin Flowers, president, pointed out that delay in construction would allow funds to accumulate and thereby reduce the amount of debt the village will incur to finance the two projects.

The Lions Club also suggested that the estimated cost of $250,000 for a 40-year term be reduced and attempts made for a reduced interest rate.

Elimination of the proposed water improvements would also save engineering and financing costs, the club suggested.

Council is preparing an application for rates in a water improvements and sewage disposal system to be filed with the Public Service Commission.

The proposals offered by the club are to be studied by Mrs. Mary Newburn, village clerk. Council later will review the proposals.

Richard Rogers also attended the meeting as chairman of the Lions committee. Also present were Mayor Ray Collins and Mrs. Ruth Cox Turner, city solicitor, from Chester.

Health Council Chooses Kerr

LISBON — E. S. Kerr, former Salem school superintendent, was elected president of the County Health and Safety Council at a meeting Tuesday in the county extension office. He succeeds Mrs. Ralph Phillips of Salem R. D.

Mrs. Earl Gruber of Hanoverton was named vice president. Mrs. Sybil Degnan of Leetonia is secretary-treasurer.

Five members of the council were re-elected — D. W. Bailey of Columbiana, Victor Bates of Minerva R. D., Floyd Lower of Lisbon, Mrs. Frank Fisher of East Liverpool and Mrs. Roy Archibald of Minerva R. D.

Bates was elected to represent the Health and Safety Council on the County Agricultural Council. Kerr will represent Columbiana County on the Ohio Rural Health Council. Mrs. Phillips will represent the council in the Multiple Sclerosis Society.

A program for 1961 was adopted. Mrs. D. W. Fadely of Salem showed a film on multiple sclerosis.

Representatives at the meeting included all voluntary health agencies, schools, members at large and several ex-officio members.

Hope To Do Better Than Dallas

New NFL Vikings Have 96 Players To Choose From

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The Minnesota Vikings, who will become the National Football League's 14th team this fall, today were studying a list of 96 available veterans, hoping to do better than Dallas in its first league season.

Each league club, with the exception of Dallas which managed only one tie and no victories in its first year, had to make available a list of eight players by noon today. Some were ready Monday night. The Vikings can take three from each club, a total of 36 players for $550,000.

Bert Rose, general manager of the Vikings, had no illusions about what to expect.

"We know we have a rocky road ahead," he said. "Just as Dallas has had so far. But we are prepared for it. I think this is as equitable a solution as could be worked out."

Didn't he want the right to pick from 11 players, as Dallas had last year?

"We wanted all we could get," he said. "We didn't arrive at any specific figure. We do have one advantage over Dallas in the decision of the league to cut its player limit from 38 to 36 men. That should make more available to us in waivers."

Norm Van Brocklin, the Vikings' coach; Joe Thomas, the club's talent scout, and Rose will make the selections. They already are sure of one player, quarterback George Shaw acquired in a trade with New York, and they had first draft choice in 20 rounds last month.

Pete Rozelle, league commissioner, said the Vikings had until noon Thursday to complete their 36-man selection. The Vikings will notify the various clubs who, in turn, will contact the players.

Favor NL Rivals

NEW YORK (AP)—The Yankees will meet 17 National League foes and 12 from the American League in pre-season baseball exhibition games. They open their spring training grind March 11 against St. Louis in St. Petersburg, Fla. The Cardinal series includes seven meetings, ending April 9 in St. Louis.

Goalie Glenn Hall of the Chicago Black Hawks has proved a bulwark against the Detroit Red Wings this season. In a period of eight days he shut them out three times.

Transfer Of Chargers

To San Diego Okayed
SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—It's the San Diego Chargers of the American Football League now.

That's what a smiling Barron Hilton, owner of the professional football team, said Tuesday when the City Council agreed by unanimous vote to proposed improvements at city-owned Balboa Stadium.

The Council action assured the transfer of the Chargers from Los Angeles to San Diego.

Athletic Group To Enact Bylaws

A rules and bylaws committee was set up at a meeting of the South Side Athletic Club Tuesday evening at American Legion Post 952 near Hookstown.

John Miles of Georgetown and William (Bud) Green of Shippingport will be co-chairmen. Some $47 was reported realized in a recent fund-raising dance. Another dance is planned for Feb. 18 at the Hookstown Grange Hall.

It was reported that women will hold a meeting in the near future to organize an auxiliary and elect officers. The dividing of Greene Township into 3 districts was reported completed. Boys from the districts will play on teams of Hookstown, Georgetown and Shippingport.

Paul Verzella, vice president, presided. Next meeting is Feb. 7 at the Legion hall.

Chester Police Press Probe Of Disturbance

Chester police are continuing investigation of disturbances by a gang of youths near the home of Mrs. Walter Sayre of W. Carolina Ave.

Mrs. Sayre reported at 2 a. m. today to Patrolman Clarence Lennens some youths drove up in front of the home and sounded the car horn for several minutes.

Monday morning some tried to enter the home, breaking the front door, and Sunday night several did enter the home and displayed a gun, she told police. The youths are apparently from Pennsylvania.

Kennedy Set To Ask Delay In A-Test Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is reported ready to seek a delay of a few weeks in the nuclear test talks now scheduled to resume in Geneva Feb. 7.

Theft Of Auto Linked To Boy In Burglaries

Police records show that one of the 2 youths returned here Tuesday afternoon from Wheeling for implication in two burglaries Jan. 18 also was responsible for an East Liverpool car theft in February 1960. Chief A. J. Radeschi said today.

Police are continuing to question the two, who already have admitted burglaries at the Goodyear Service Store on Walnut St. and Ann's Restaurant on the Diamond, the chief said.

Charles Roy Richards, 19, of West Liberty, W. Va., is scheduled for arraignment in Municipal Court on a burglary charge in connection with the breaking and entering of the auto supply store, but he probably will not be taken before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff before Thursday, Chief Radeschi said.

The 17-year-old, a Cleveland resident, is scheduled to be referred to county juvenile authorities.

The department's records show the 17-year-old was arrested in Morgantown, W. Va., in February 1960 for the theft of a Toronto man's auto from the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. property near the Horn Switch at Dresden Ave., the chief said. The record shows he later was sentenced to a West Virginia correctional institution.

Patrolmen Charles A. Winters and William A. Devon returned the two late yesterday afternoon from Wheeling, where they were arrested in an attempt to break into a tavern. The officers also returned five transistor radios allegedly stolen out of the Goodyear store and recovered with the arrest of the pair.

Hear Voices? They're Daws Butler's

It was only a matter of time before Yogi Bear got his own TV show. The kid has a barrel of talent, and his work on "Huckleberry Hound Show" was bound to set him up for the big break.

"The Yogi Bear Show" begins next week on 160 of the country's TV stations, replacing "Woody Woodpecker," and, Hal Humphrey as some nut once said, "That's show biz." (Yogi is scheduled for Channel 3 Thursday at 7 p.m.) I went to the Hanna-Barbera studio to interview Yogi before he gets all wrapped up in his new starring vehicle.

When talking to Yogi, one discovers himself talking also to Huck Hound, Mr. Jinks, Quick Draw McGraw, Baba Looney, Super Snooper, Blabberhouse, Augie Doggie, Snagglepuss and Sniffles.

A SHORT, MODEST fellow by the name of Daws Butler not only does the voices for the above-mentioned stars, but has a repertoire of assorted "extra" voices which numbers around 300.

It's a routine day for Daws to sit closeted in a sound studio recording dialogue tracks for three or four hours. These tracks are then played by the animators, who draw the characters and action to match the voices.

Daws will read and record the dialogue of as many as six or seven characters in one seven-minute cartoon. As he talks on the voice of each, he assumes many of the physical gyrations and movements which he mentally attributes to each "actor." When doing Yogi, for example, Daws throws out his chest and gesticulates like any normal cartoon bear.

"I'M NOT REALLY a method actor," says Daws with a sly grin, "but Yogi speaks with a kind of elongation of the vowels, and this calls for diaphragm control. I do it better by standing up and making like a guy with a big chest expansion."

When Bill Hanna and Joe Barbera, who head up Hollywood's most successful cartoon factor, dream up a new character for any of their TV properties, Daws will go home, set up his own tape machine and record a series of voices.

Barbera will listen to these the next day.

"I want this bulldog dumb, but not that dumb," he may say, and Daws changes his vocal range to boost the dog's IQ.

Besides Daws, the studio has Doug Young (Doggie Daddie) and Jean van der Pyle (feminine characters) doing voices.

Daws, however, carried the big load, and last year he animal-talked his way into about $150,000 with the Hanna-Barbera enterprises.

IN ADDITION to that income, Daws earns several other little nest eggs by doing voices for TV cartoon commercials.

He doesn't consider himself an actor, and although he lives well in Beverly Hills with his wife and four boys, Daws is not the ostentatious or Hollywood type. He never has hired a press agent to trumpet his accomplishments.

"In my naive way," says Daws, "I always believed that publicity would come naturally as a sort of reward for honest work performed. Needless to say, I've bought the Brooklyn Bridge three times and am dickering for it again right now."

When he comes home at night to the wife and four sons, Daws says he feels like any carpenter ("better say 'a good carpenter,' huh?").

HIS EARNINGS will go up now that Yogi Bear is hosting his own show, because Daws also works like a carpenter—by the day. He prefers not to be under contract. He can be more independent, he says, and can pick his work wherever he likes.

Like his ex-partner, Stan Freberg, who used to work with him on TV's old "Time for Beany" puppet show, Daws is a clever creator of commercials for TV and radio. He gets a fancy fee from ad agencies for just sitting in a two-hour session while they pick his brains. The session is taped, so if they want anything else from Daws, the flat on the meter goes down again.

How did Daws get this way? He was graduated from cartooning in his home town, Chicago, then tried night clubs with comedy and impersonations. When he hit Hollywood, radio discovered Daws and his assortment of voices and dialects. It was just a short leap from there to cartoon voices and a home in Beverly Hills.

Pughtown Cub Scouts Will Hold First Dinner

Plans for the first annual Blue and Gold banquet were discussed when leaders of Pughtown Cub Scout Pack 137 met Monday night with John W. Johnston of State Route 2.

Theme for February was announced as "Genius Night."

The regular pack meeting will be held Friday night at 7 in the Pughtown Christian Church. All parents are urged to attend to further plans for the banquet.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Johnston. The next committee meeting will be Feb. 20 with Robert Rosish of State Route 2.

Kaufmann joined Crucible after his graduation from Pennsylvania State College with a degree in metallurgy in 1940. Beginning in Crucible's Harrison (N.J.) research lab, he moved to the Sanderson-Halcomb Works in Syracuse in 1941. After a series of metallurgical positions of increasing responsibility, he was moved to Crucible's Central Metallurgical Department in Pittsburgh in 1950.

During Crucible's joint ownership of Rem-Cru Titanium, Inc., at Midland, Kaufmann served with that company from 1953 to 1957, advancing from assistant sales manager to manager of marketing.

When Crucible acquired complete ownership of Rem-Cru Titanium, he was appointed product manager of the Titanium Division. In 1958, he assumed responsibility for sales of vacuum melted products and in 1959 he became product manager of tool steels.

Kaufmann has been active in the American Iron and Steel Institute. He is a resident of Barclay Hill Rd., Beaver, and a member of the Beaver Valley Country Club.

Officers Installed By IOOF Group

Officers of Tri-State Encampment 354 of the Odd Fellows were installed at a meeting Monday night in the Pennova Odd Fellows Lodge hall in East End.

Thomas Dover, district deputy grand patriarch, was installing officer.

The new officers include: James Johnson, chief patriarch; Ernest Phillips, senior priest; George McGaffie, senior warden; Don Mulligan, junior warden; Dover, recording scribe and degree captain; Ray Stillwell, financial scribe; James Thomas, treasurer, and Ralph Stanley, trustee.

Other officers include Ed Wolfe, first watch; Leon Hughes, third watch; A. R. Walker, fourth watch; William Palm, guide; Kenneth McBride, inside sentinel; Lundy Price, outside sentinel; Raymond Neidenger, first guide of tent, and Stanley, second guide.

Jeremiah Reed of Hookstown received the patriarchal degree. Dover was the degree captain.

Reservoir Nearly Full

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — The 100 million gallon reservoir of Clinton County Water Co. is nearly full and the firm says it has stopped pumping from auxiliary sources. A spokesman reported Tuesday the company has dismantled its overland pipeline to State Lake Cowan from which it has drawn supplies to offset a critically low water level that developed last month.

Coroner's Jury Rules Death Was Accidental

KITTANNING, Pa. (AP) — An Armstrong County coroner's jury has ruled that Mrs. May Adele Lytle, 28, of near Kittanning died accidentally. Eight witnesses testified Tuesday at the inquest and two policemen told of their two-week investigation. Earl Lytle, 33, the dead woman's husband, did not testify.

Lytle told police he found his wife unconscious on a bedroom floor in their home Jan. 12. She died later that day in a hospital from what an autopsy revealed was a concussion caused by injury to the back of her head.

Growth Slowup Feared

CINCINNATI (AP) — Roger Drackett, president of the Drackett Corp., has warned stockholders that "a slower rate of growth than we have been experiencing is likely unless we are able to make some major acquisition." Officials of Drackett, which makes Windex and Drano, also reported at Tuesday's annual meeting that sales in the quarter ended Dec. 31 were $7,363,000 compared to $7,485,000 in a similar period of 1959.

Former Rem-Cru Aide Given Post

M. J. Day, vice president commercial of the Crucible Steel Co. of America, has announced the appointment of D. W. Kaufmann as product manager of stainless steels. In this new capacity, Kaufmann will also be responsible for vacuum melted high temperature alloys, super alloys and titanium.

Kaufmann joined Crucible after his graduation from Pennsylvania State College with a degree in metallurgy in 1940. Beginning in Crucible's Harrison (N.J.) research lab, he moved to the Sanderson-Halcomb Works in Syracuse in 1941. Lytle told police he found his wife unconscious on a bedroom floor in their home Jan. 12. She died later that day in a hospital from what an autopsy revealed was a concussion caused by injury to the back of her head.

Growth Slowup Feared

CINCINNATI (AP) — Roger Drackett, president of the Drackett Corp., has warned stockholders that "a slower rate of growth than we have been experiencing is likely unless we are able to make some major acquisition." Officials of Drackett, which makes Windex and Drano, also reported at Tuesday's annual meeting that sales in the quarter ended Dec. 31 were $7,363,000 compared to $7,485,000 in a similar period of 1959.

Driver Jailed In Car Mishap

Cited after a collision early last Thursday on Harvey Ave., Klondyke, Hal Hamblett, 32, of 520 1st Ave. was convicted of driving while under the influence of alcohol in a lengthy hearing Tuesday before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Judge Chertoff fined Hamblett $200 and costs, sentenced him to 10 days in jail and suspended his operator's permit for a year. Unable to make bond, Hamblett has been behind bars since his arrest, so he already has served out a major portion of the jail time.

Hamblett was arrested after his eastbound 1955 auto struck the rear of a parked 1954 sedan owned by Carter Tucker, 2260 Harvey Ave., causing heavy damage to both vehicles, police said.

Defended by Atty. William S. Foulks, Hamblett testified he consumed only two drinks several hours before the accident. Then he went home, ate a meal and took a nap before starting for a brother's home in Midland, he said. Hamblett testified he was crowded off the street by an oncoming auto, causing him to hit Tucker's car. But witnesses told police there were no other cars on the street at the time of the collision. Officers testified he showed numerous symptoms of inebriation.

2 Men And Woman

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — Two men and a woman allegedly took an estimated $500 in cash and checks from a general store in nearby Thurston Tuesday, but the theft wasn't noticed until 15 minutes after the trio left.

Marvin Spaks, operator of the store, told Sheriff Jack Blazer the woman engaged his wife, alone in the store at the time, in conversation while the men apparently looted the cash register and a pouch.

The committee was named earlier to study the final exams program. The committee recommended that the present program be continued.

R. O. Stevens, principal of Pughtown, president, presided. About 15 attended. The next meeting is April 24 in Weir High School in Weirton. Dinner will be served.

Day-Long Quarrel Ends In Gun Death

CINCINNATI (AP) — A day-long quarrel ended late Tuesday night with the shotgun death of a Cincinnati moving company operator, police reported.

Killed was Lee Hutchinson, 53, of East Cincinnati. Police said he died instantly from a 16-gauge shotgun blast.

Police arrested Howard Messer, 37, who lived in the same apartment building as Hutchinson, and said two witnesses identified Messer as the shooter. The shooting occurred just outside Hutchinson's home.

Police said Messer immediately afterward walked to a nearby cafe with the shotgun and told the bartender, "I just shot a man." He was there when police arrived.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

'Slim-Ups' Provide Muscle Tone

Setting-up exercises are so uninspired. The very terms, "set-ups" and "workouts," sound dull and arduous. Half-heartedly you start out "One, two, three, four, guess that's enough." Without a quickening of the spirit, there is little to sustain interest.

Change to "slim-ups."

I am delighted by Ida Jean Kain gives a mental lift. "Slim" is synonymous with streamlines. Since gravity exerts a downward pull, the word, "up," brings a young lift and helps fight Old Lady Gravity. Think of being slim, supple, and looking and feeling 10 years younger — it will be a pleasure to stretch, bend, and take a turn at slim-ups.

Stretching movements are a natural. Stretching stimulates circulation, forcing the muscles to act against one another. On the mental side, think of stretching as pulling the figure up out of the dumps.

TO WARM UP, lie on back on mat on floor and simply stretch from tip to toe, pulling both ends against the middle measurement. Reach back on floor beyond head, stretching to fingertips, pushing downward with toes...p-u-l-l.

Twist and turn and get the whole body into it. Stretching is wonderfully rewarding, and so easy to do.

Here's a bias stretch. Lying on back on floor, legs straight down, arms down at sides. The movement is merely to stretch right arm back on floor beyond head as you lift right leg slightly and cross it over the left, the stretch all along the right side, bias-wise.

That movement feels ever so streamlining. Since a hold movement is more toning, hold the stretch while you think, "Slim, young, supple...stretch for streamlines." Relax for a second, and crossing left leg over right as you stretch left arm back on floor beyond head, repeat the movement to a slow word count, again holding the stretch. Think of the "taffy-pulled" middle — measurement fashion as you repeat the exercise.

A simple leg-swinging routine brings bulky hip muscles into slimming action. Standing, hold on to chair back for support and swing leg forward, then rearward.

KEEPING the knee straight, raise the leg past the 45 degree angle on both the forward and rearward swing. Hold on the backswing to increase the toning. Hit a smooth rhythm...swinging to a slow tango tune. Swing with the opposite leg.

If you are rusty on exercise, be sure to stop at the height of its invigorating effect and the following day you'll feel better for having taken "slim-ups."

Send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for "Slim Hips In A Hurry." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.
